"To the red and black that

 One of these days I'm going to take you to N.Y.
 with me. And that is a promise!
 Bud

These familiar faces of Vincent will bring back many fond memories as we look back upon our high school years.

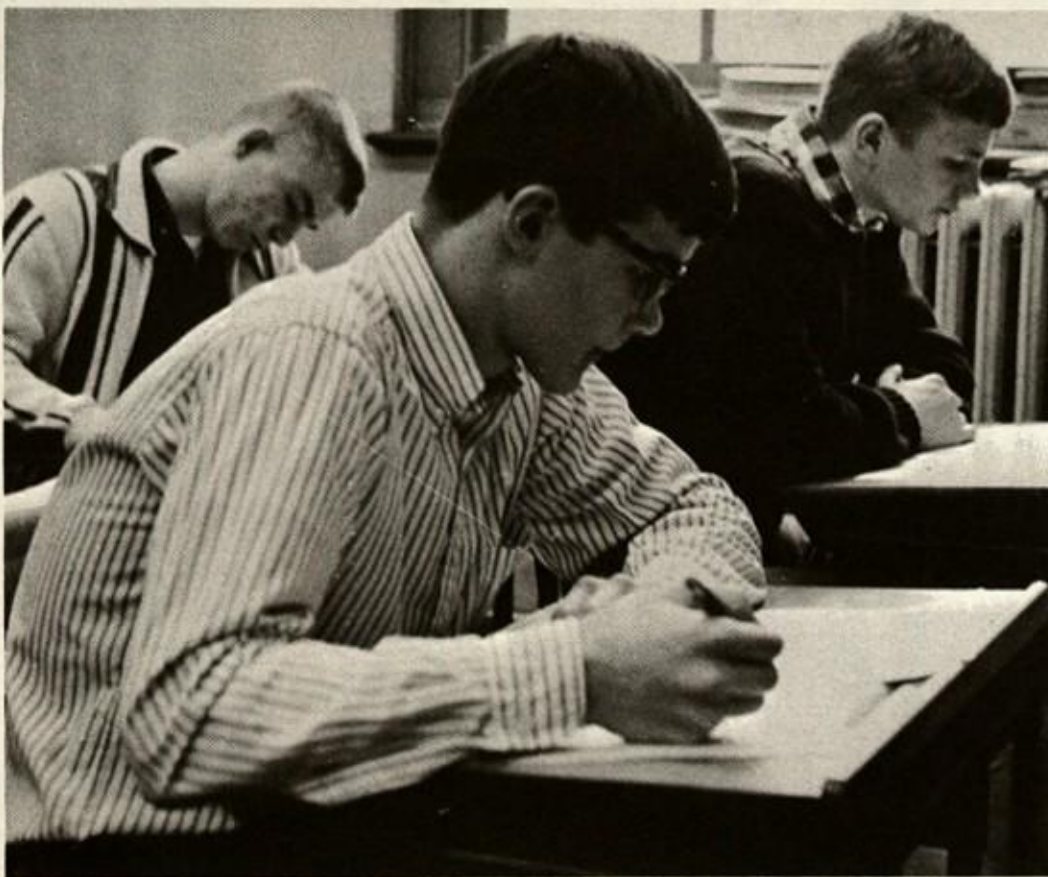

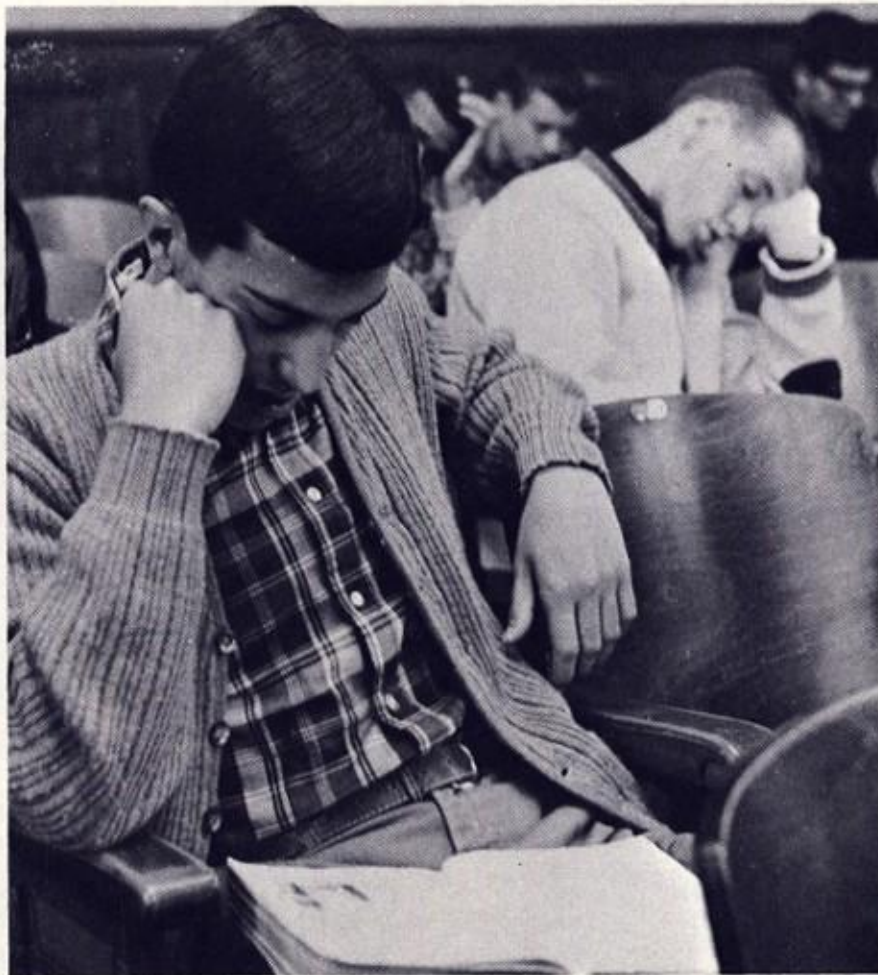

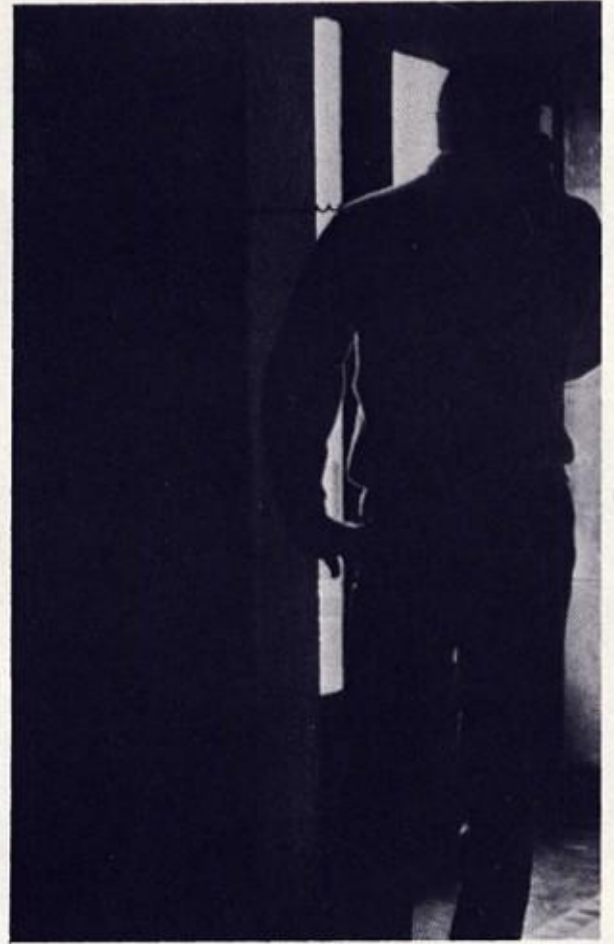

Somewhere in the maze of our memories . . . somewhere in the depths of our personal reflections . . . somewhere in the endless moments of this past year . . . somewhere we discover what Vincent means to us . . . a crowded morning bus ride . . . a cold snowy trudge to school . . . last minute preparations for an oft indifferent daily audience . . . miles of aimless walks before homeroom . . . a missed bell . . .

. . . somewhere there were classes
 . . . the excitement of new found knowledge . . . cramming for tests . . . day-dreamed hours in study hall . . . an attempt at athletic prowess . . . an uncontrollable urge to doze . . . the satisfaction of individual and collective achievement . . . intense moments that meet important problems . . .

. . . somewhere there were lunch hours . . . tedious cafeteria lines . . . an infinite number of students jostling each other jockeying for seats . . . a vain attempt to be heard above the din . . . the snack bar . . . fudgies, rolls, ice cream, nickel cookies . . . the overflowing trash cans . . . noonday dances . . . boy's gym . . . auditorium . . . monitors . . .

. . . somewhere time stretched out
 . . . the bell seemed never to ring . . . a mad rush to the lockers . . . coats, boots, books . . . transportation home
 . . . downtown . . . somewhere a few shadows left in a quiet hallway . . .
 somewhere a few reminiscences of a fleeting romance . . . somewhere Vincent living in each of its own . . .

One of Mr. Barthelson's most enjoyable duties is presenting athletic letters to his boys on "Letter Day." Last fall Bart presented letters to deserving J.V. football lettermen, after giving a summary of their over-all team record to the student body.

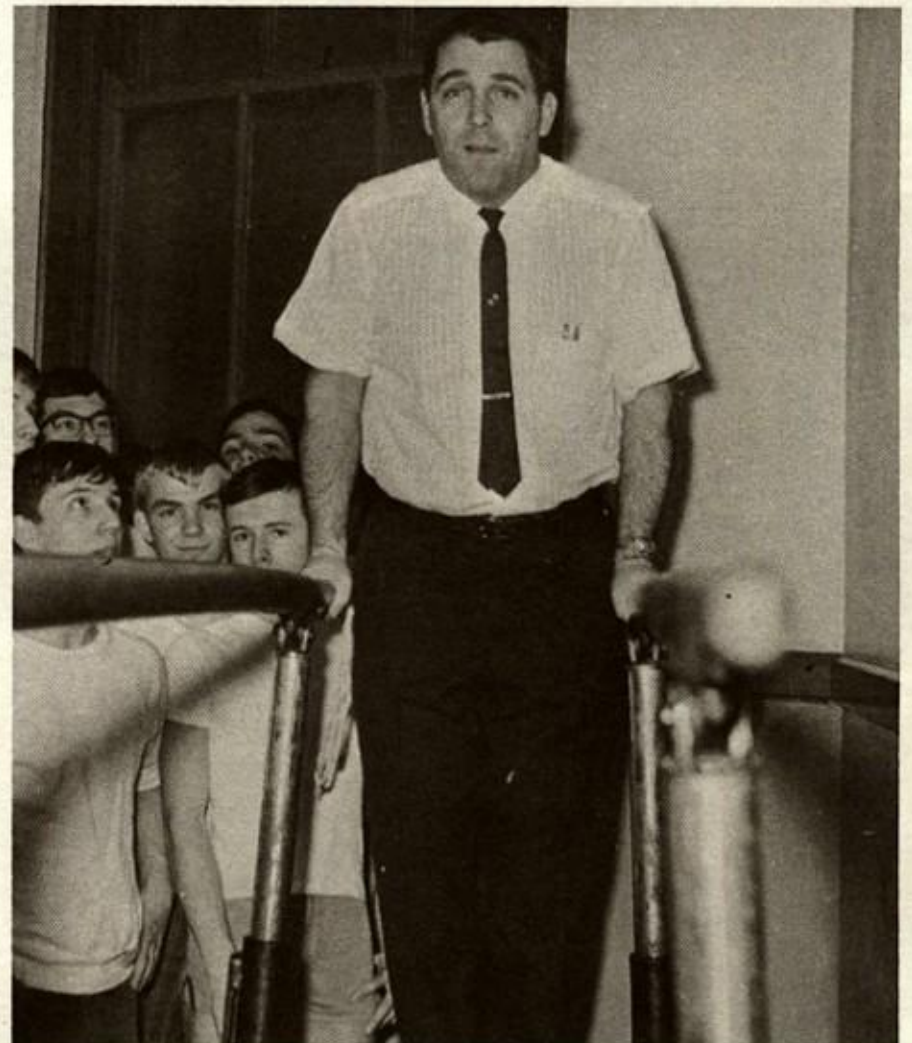

"Bart's" dedication to his boys is shown by his long hours of hard work. After school, in the fall and spring of every year, he works diligently to produce outstanding athletic teams. Here Coach Barthelson demonstrates a muscle building exercise on the parallel bars.

Our many thanks

To be a teacher, one must possess certain qualities, so that he may instill in his students a sense of enrichment and learning. He must have a sensitive understanding of the young people of today, and the personality to function well with students and faculty alike. We at Vincent are fortunate enough to have just that man.

In addition to teaching regular and advanced biology, he has served our athletic department in the capacities of J.V. football coach and varsity track coach. His "Little Colonels" have compiled an admirable record over the years, while the track team improves more each year under his expert management. Besides winning victories on the field, he also wins the admiration of his boys who bring their troubles to "Coach." Several of our most outstanding athletes in past years bear witness to his many coaching skills.

His friendly smile and constantly helpful attitude make him one of Vincent's most popular teachers. We therefore join the entire student body in thanking him for his many contributions to Vincent, and we gratefully dedicate this 1965 Spokesman to Mr. Glen Barthelson.

Our chief administrator

Mr. Gustavson attends many of the social and academic activities of Strong Vincent. He is enjoying spaghetti at the Concert Choir dinner held in October.

Experience, personality, and leadership are necessary qualities to achieve success in any profession. Strong Vincent's principal, Mr. Bertil C. Gustavson, certainly possesses all three characteristics. He is a true representative of Strong Vincent when he portrays spirit and enthusiasm during the rallies and assemblies. Mr. Gustavson unites the school into a well-running, mechanized student body.

His career began at Strong Vincent, where he taught English, History, P.O.D., and Economics. In 1946 he was promoted to assistant principal of Vincent and in 1959 to principal of Roosevelt Junior High. Due to the retirement of Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Gustavson once again returned to Vincent, this time as the principal administrator.

position. He is a firm, but understanding man and educator. He is an asset to Strong Vincent; its faculty and student body appreciate his dedication to the school.

Assistant principals

The position of assistant principal encompasses many duties. Mr. Alfred Lubowicki, demonstrates his capabilities daily, by supervising such varied jobs as boys attendance and discipline, hall and cafeteria monitors, all assemblies and auditorium seating, the athletic program, and student and faculty schedules. All CEEB exams are under his jurisdiction as well as the scholarship and awards committees. He displays his diplomatic finesse in handling Vincent's public relations. He also serves on the Civil Defense committee, is chairman of all faculty and service meetings, and is co-chairman of the Open House program.

As an integral component of the administration, Mr. Lubowicki's quick and friendly humor, and his patience and diligence, truly make him an asset to the school.

During the year Mr. Lubowicki presided over many of the assemblies. In this particular assembly he accepts the cross country District Ten trophy for the school from co-captain Richard Martin.

vital to our school

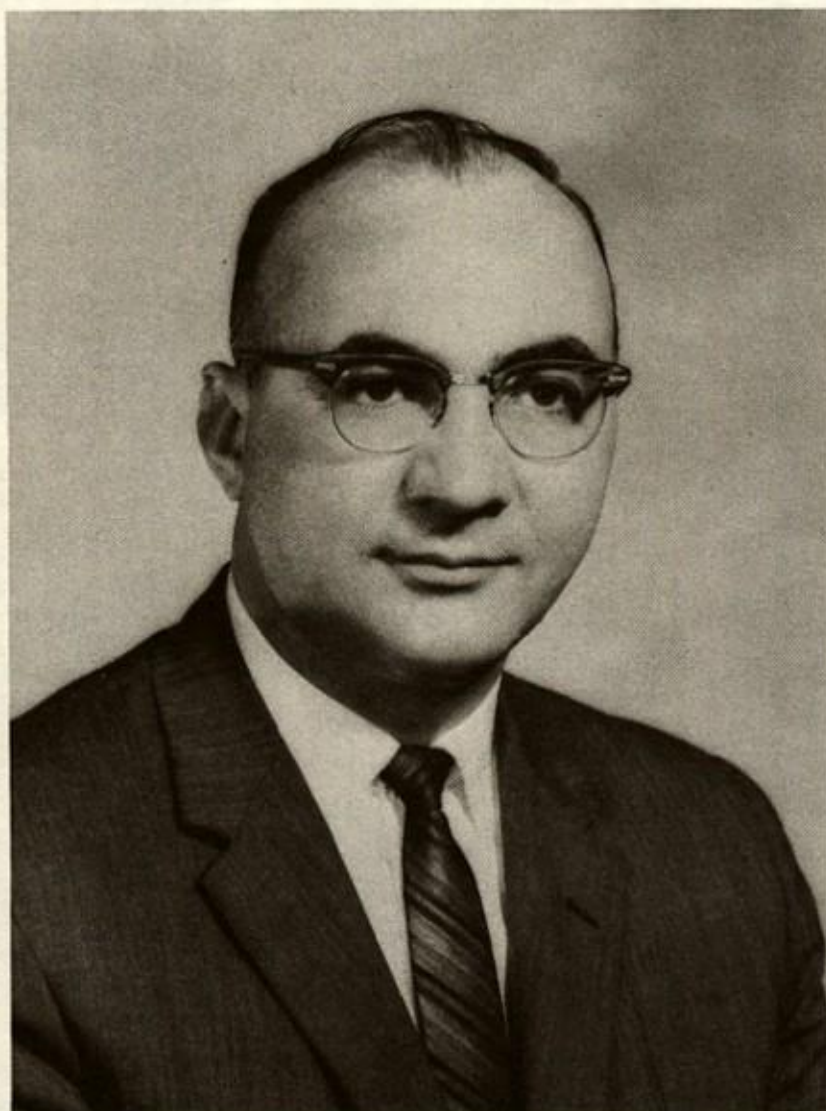

In charge of girls attendance, Miss Kuhn checks over an attendance sheet with Ann Duttweiler and Joanne Drinkwater.

Under the guidance of Miss Margaret Kuhn, the many detailed tasks of an assistant principal are expedited with efficiency. Girls attendance and discipline, and maintenance of the social calendar are but a few of her many activities. Seniors deeply appreciate the many hours she spends planning their commencement and other senior activities. Her contributions to such extra-curricular activities as the College Club, the National Honor Society, and the American Field Service are invaluable.

Miss Kuhn works not only with the students, but also with the faculty, observing in the classrooms, helping new teachers, and serving as faculty social advisor. Her untiring efforts in her eleven years of service and dedication to Vincent have enriched the entire school.

Colonels bid a fond farewell

After eleven years of dedicated service, our boys' guidance counselor, Mr. Donald De Nardo, having been appointed assistant principal at Academy, has left Vincent.

From his arrival in 1952, to 1958, "Dondi" taught civics and social studies. In 1958 he was appointed boys' guidance counselor. Although he was active in many extra-curricular activities, his flair for the theatre constituted the nucleus around which the Dramatics Club was built. One could often see him in the auditorium long after school hours, directing a rehearsal for one of the many plays produced by his groups of energetic Thespians.

His innate sense of humor eased tension in any situation, and it served with his understanding and patience to help anyone who sought his advice. Appreciation of his work was shown in 1959, when the student body dedicated the Spokesman to him.

We shall miss his mischievous grin and hearty chuckle, but we sincerely hope that he continues to receive the honors he so richly deserves. Best wishes in all you attempt, Mr. DeNardo!

After many years of dedicated service to Vincent, Mrs. Held, the sight-saving and orthopedic specialist, has retired. She helped the special students participate in as many normal school activities as possible. By either reading or playing recordings of course textbooks, she assisted the students with visionary difficulties to accomplish their work. As a sort of "jack-of-all-trades," she would supplement any subject that needed extra explanation. She taught everything from plane geometry to English literature. Her tireless efforts to make her students as self-sufficient as possible were successful, in that many of her students not only graduated but went on to college.

Mrs. Held is now in Florida with her husband, and plans to do more travelling. Between trips she keeps herself very busy with her lifelong hobbies of sewing, reading, and interior decorating.

Vincent represents Pakistan

Foreign exchange student welcomed

Vincent warmly welcomes the arrival of Bente Sorensen. Staying with her American "sister," Cindy Hagelstein, Bente graced our halls with her "schlide rule," winning the hearts of students and faculty alike. It has not been a one-sided experience, though. America taught her how to get along with its friendly outgoing natives. She said, "All this makes you realize how much you can receive when you give yourself." At left, Bente models her native costume which she designed and embroidered herself. Below, in one of her many hand-knit ski sweaters, she joins Joyce Slagle in a lively discussion at the Christmas A.F.S. party.

"Queen Emily"

Chosen by the student body of Strong Vincent to reign as the 1965 Spokesman Queen was lovely Emily Fatica. Her school spirit, quiet charm and grace, combined with a warm personality make Emily a popular senior and a most worthy queen.

Emily and five other contestants were nominated by the students as Spokesman Queen candidates. The girls carried on the traditional campaign with posters, slogans, and tags. They thus encouraged the students to purchase a yearbook so that they would be eligible to cast a ballot for the candidate of their choice.

Everyone joins the Spokesman staff in extending their sincere congratulations to Emily, an excellent choice.

Donna Baird and Spokesman Queen Emily Fatica, portraying Swamily, predicts a victory for the red and black during the Kiski rally.

Vincent's loveliest girls vie for beauty crowns

The six lovely candidates for the 1965 Spokesman Queen were chosen by the students of Strong Vincent. The nominees were Emily Fatica, Kathy Ponsford, Jeanne Riester, Wendy McLallen, Marcia Prassack, and Kathy Turify.

To win the honor of Track Queen, Janet Colao sold the greatest number of tickets to the meet. Strong Vincent's representatives to the All-City Track Meet held last spring at the Stadium were Michele Boccio, Queen Janet Colao, and Lynda Edmonds.

Lovely Patty Eckard reigns as Homecoming Queen

The fourth annual Strong Vincent Homecoming Dance was held at the Shrine Club on November 28, 1964. The dance is sponsored by the student council with all proceeds used to defray the expenses of the council variety show. Her majesty, Patty Eckard, was chosen by the student body of Vincent to reign as queen. Her vivacious personality, warm smile, and school spirit makes Patty an excellent choice.

Lovely Patty Eckard was chosen to be the queen of the fourth annual Homecoming Dance held at the Shrine Club. To win this honor, Patty was nominated and chosen by the student body of Strong Vincent.

The five lovely candidates for Homecoming Queen, nominated by the students of Vincent, were Chris Brodict, Kathy Ponsford, Jean Riester, Patty Eckard and Bobbie Brooke.

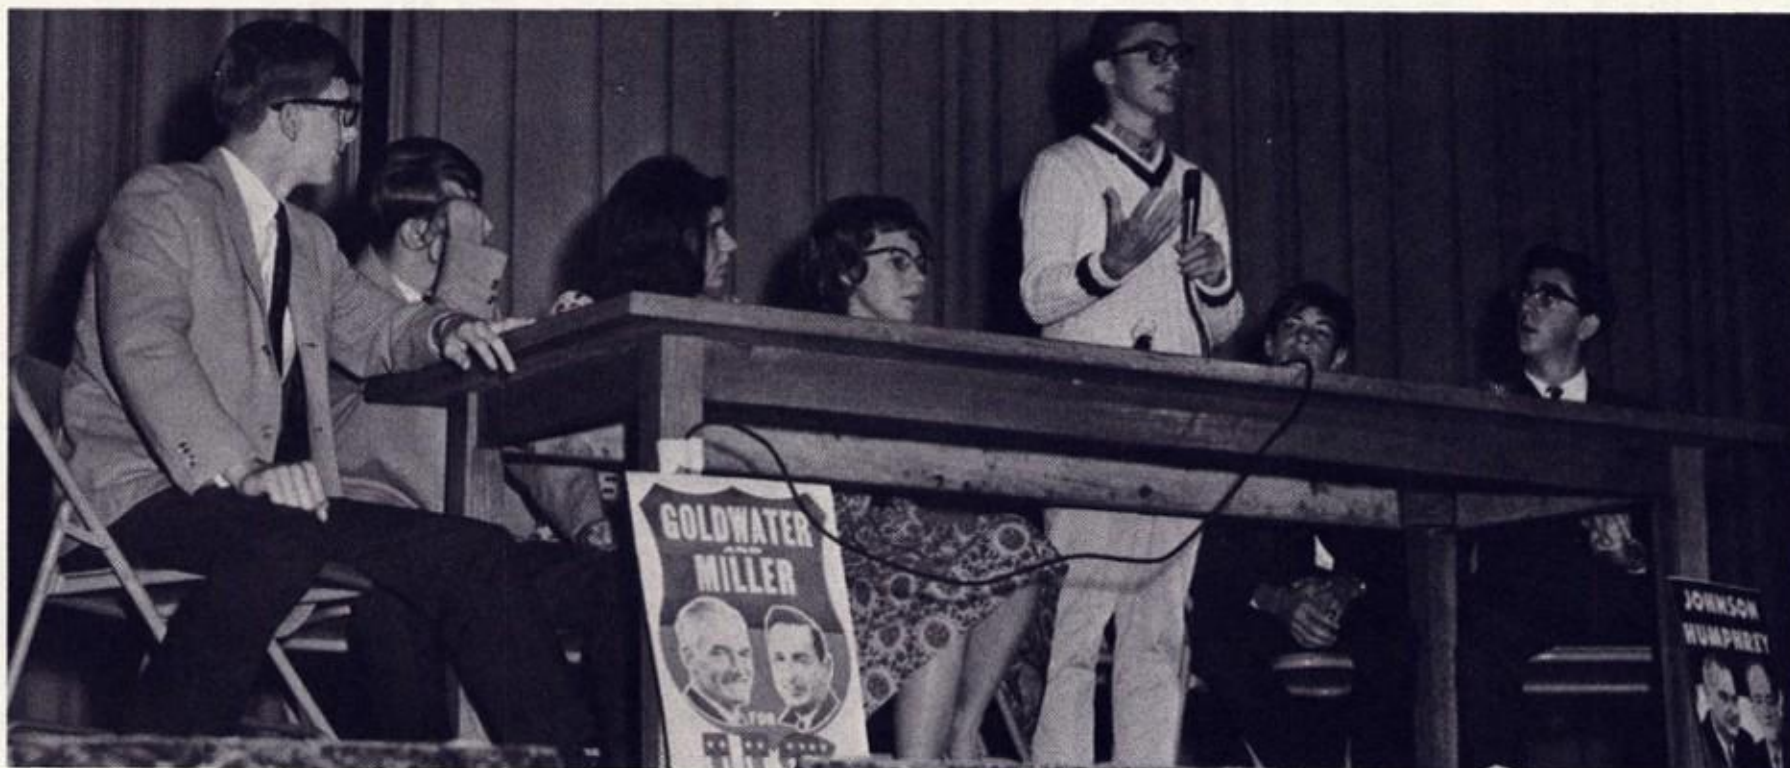

Michelle Moore, Martha Schultz, Mike Grimm, Dave Stout, Richard Scrafford, and Dan Johnson were presented with a certificate of merit in recognition of becoming finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition. This honor was earned by less than one percent of all seniors in the United States.

Vincent has six merit finalists

During assemblies, hootenannies and the variety show held last spring, the students of Strong Vincent enjoyed the singing of the Martinettes. Shown entertaining during "Trapped" are Cindy Brown, Cheryl Horton, and Barbara Williams.

A debate for the mock election was held during a November assembly program. These students gave speeches about the candidates for President and Vice President of their choice, followed by a question and answer period. Jim Marsh, Denny Sykes, and Maureen McClure, served the Goldwater and Miller committee, while John West, Mike Grimm, and Pat Mastery represented the Johnson and Humphrey committee. Linda Robins served as moderator in the somewhat heated debate.

Vincent's pep rallies

Loyal Vincentites, Nancy Swartzman, Denny Sykes, Todd Silverling, Bill Neumaier, Jane Salzer, and Bob Johnston portray the Bradford farmers and sing the football team on to victory during an enthusiastic rally.

The warm spirit and hearty enthusiasm of every Vincent student is apparent during a pep rally. Every person feels a sense of unity as he cheers along with his fellow students and his teachers to boost the team on to victory. There is no doubt that "We've got the pep."

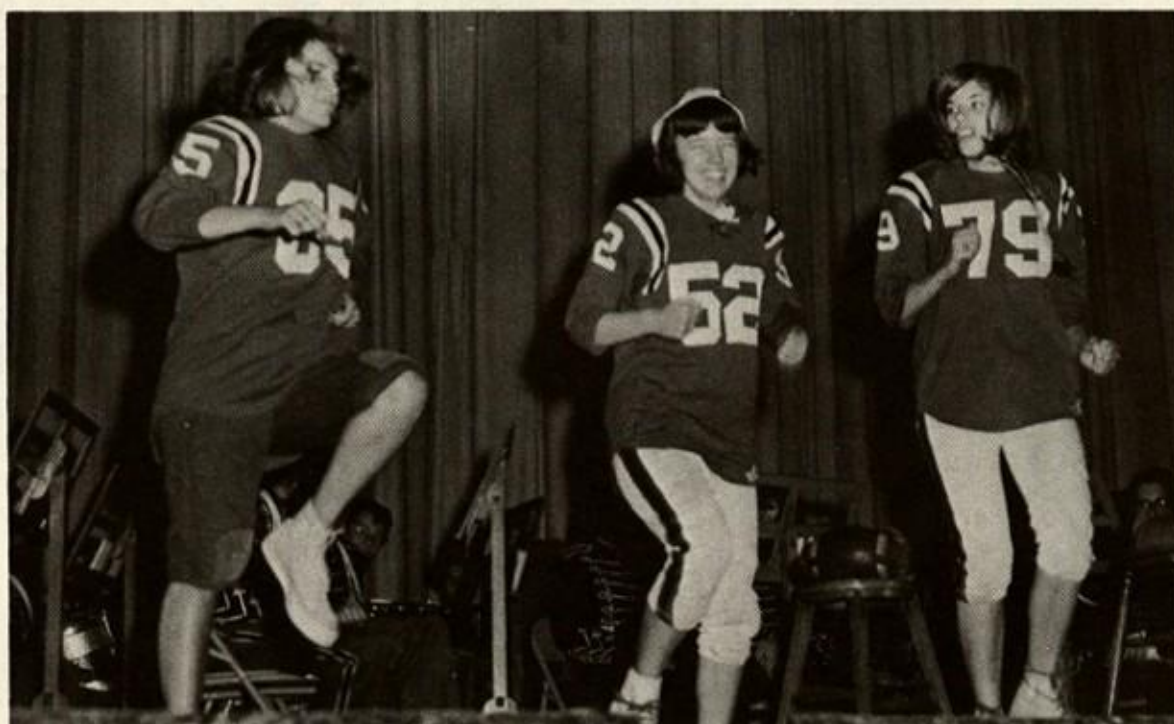

Who can help but have fun when they are entertained by Mr. Porsch and the band, the Rockettes, the twirlers, the boy and girl cheerleaders, and guest faculty speakers. Of course, no out of town game rally would be complete without Mr. Humphrey and his map to send us off on the best route.

Combined with the student emcees, the hilarious skits and the multitude of voices, one must admit the pep rallies are a high point of our high school career and will always be remembered.

Opal Breese and old Colonel Strong Vincent, Jim Marsh and Chip Wallis, take time out from a parchisi game to come back to their old alma mater during the Harborcreek pep rally.

Vincent's own Three Stooges, Tina Steele, Lynda Braine, and Janis Sachli cheer the Red and Black on to another victory as they demonstrate Vincent football plays during the Academy pep rally.

reflect a sense of unity

Emcee for the Prep rally, John Suesser, makes a dashing entrance down the auditorium aisle as the pep rally is about to begin. Dressed in a Roman toga he claims to be Caesar who has come to help the Red and Black score another victory.

Our own SVHS peacock, Denny Carlson, struts proudly across the stage. He is letting the audience know that they are about to see the New Castle Rally in color, and how proud he is of Vincent's team.

The swaying elms, Jim Roehm and Jean Reister, bend purposely to beat the running sap of Harborcreek, Jerry Munn. It seems as though the whispering breeze was trying to say there would be another glorious victory for Vincent, and a defeat for Harborcreek.

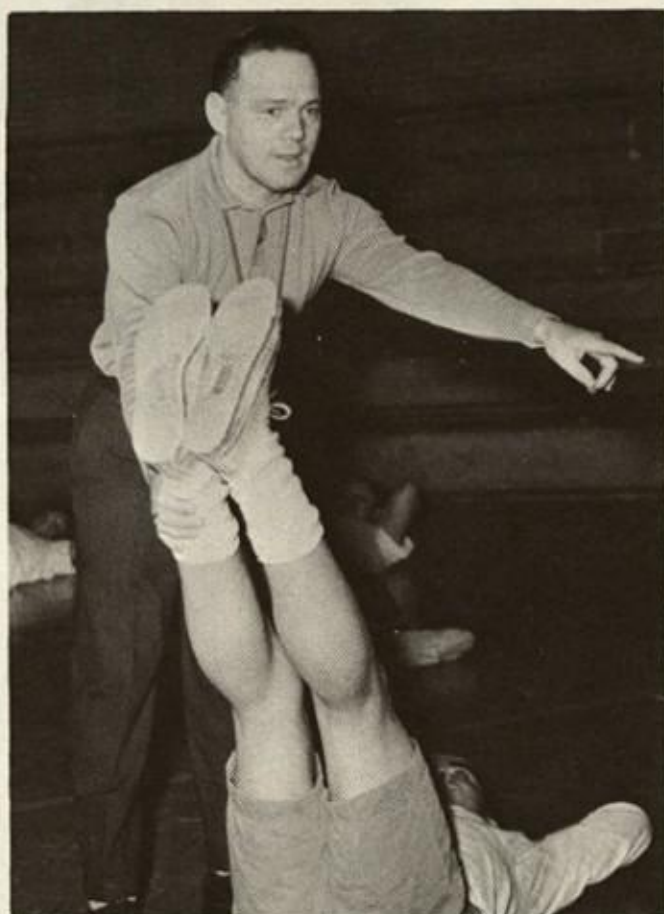

Entrusted with the instruction of almost two thousand students are the capable men and women of the faculty. Continual improvement in teaching methods and constant revision of curriculum offerings make Strong Vincent a better school in which to live and learn.

FACULTY

The physical aspects of high school learning are in the hands of Mr. Brabender, shown helping a student with basic exercises. Teachers sometimes get a chance to relax, as seen at a faculty dinner, Mrs. Foessett, and Mr. and Mrs. Alsheimer.

Although we spend many humorous hours in classes with our friends, we also accumulate many valuable skills. We gain practical knowledge in Vincent's classrooms which will serve as our stepping stone to further education or into the world of business or labor.

ORGAN

Extracurricular activities help us develop many important qualities, such as character and leadership. Each student may participate in the organizations which best suit his interests and tastes. By maintaining a wide choice of clubs and organizations, Vincent gives each student a chance to become a well-rounded individual.

ZATIONS

Student government promotes cooperation

Presiding over this year's council are Jeff Blake, treasurer; Mary Ann Lubber, recording secretary; Linda Robins and Jackie Berarducci, co-vice-presidents; and Pete Rounds, president.

The Student Council sponsored a "mock election" to give the student body an opportunity to express their feelings toward the Presidential election. Tabulating the results are Mr. Gervase, J. Blake, P. Rounds, Miss Silverthorn and Mr. Cianflocco.

In order for any dance to be a success it must be highly publicized. Through the help of Gae Baker, Linda De Palma and Sam Biletznikoff, many signs, such as the one pictured above, were circulated throughout the city.

Decoration of the homeroom doors highlighted council's activities during the Christmas season. K. Neal, J. Moscato, R. McKeen, and D. Miller proudly display their homeroom creation.

The Student Council, one of the schools' most effective organizations, is composed of officers, representatives from homerooms and members-at-large from each class.

A valuable link between the faculty and the student body is provided through the Student Council. It works with the administration in the smooth functioning of school activities and offers a voice for student expression.

Rapidly becoming traditions of the Student Council are the Fall Homecoming Dance and the Spring Variety Show. However, these are just two of the many activities sponsored by council. Others include approving student organizations; selling pom poms, school supplies and license plates; conducting school welfare drives; and providing letters for Vincent athletes. There are many new activities which council has taken up such as, decorating homeroom doors at Christmas time, revising handbooks, and supplying the officers of future years with an evaluation publication.

Under the supervision of its advisors, Miss Silverthorn, Mr. Scypinski, Mrs. Jewell, and Mr. Vickey, the Student Council has proved its necessity and importance for the entire school.

For the fall induction of the Honor Society the students listen attentively as Doctor Weaver delivers a speech on job opportunities.

Janice Bohlender, a candidate for induction is escorted to the stage by one of the Society's members, Geoffery Crankshaw.

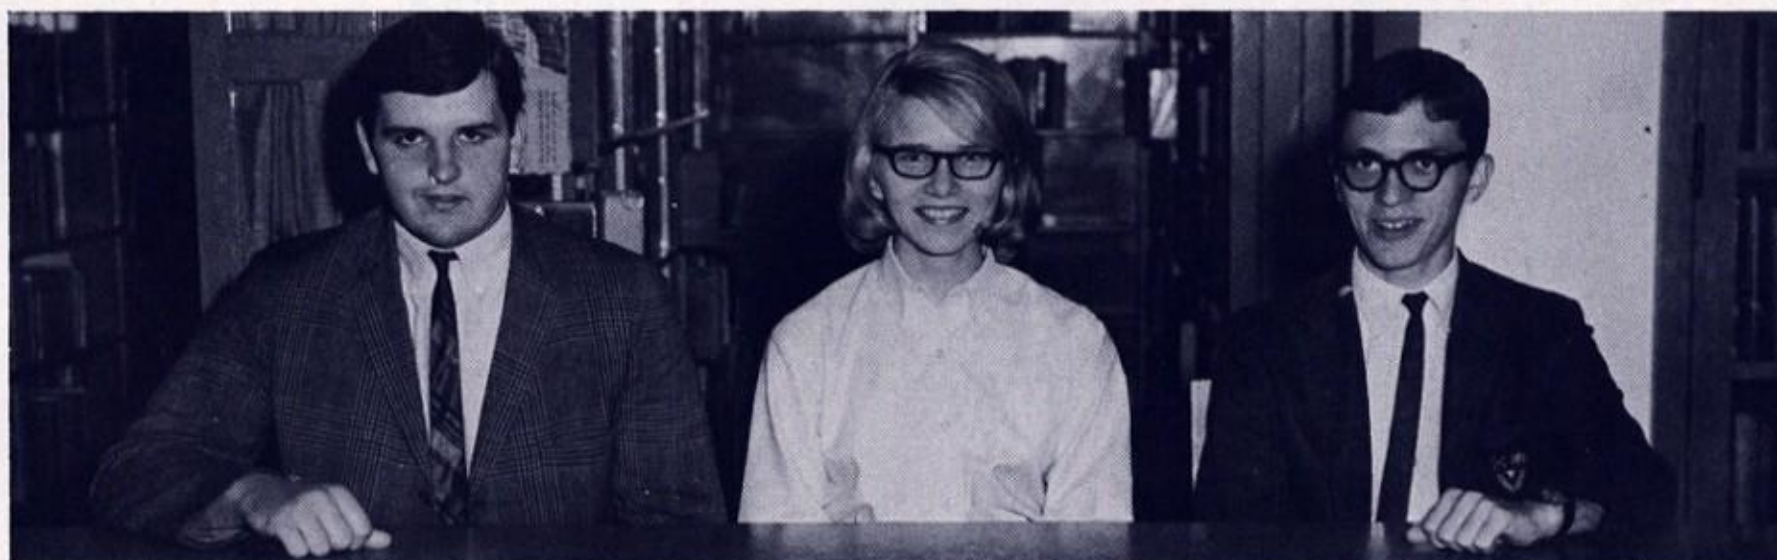

The one organization at Strong Vincent bearing excellent standards is the National Honor Society. Scholarship, leadership, character and service characterize this worthy organization. Bi-annually the faculty at Vincent choose students who, in their opinion, exemplify these standards of the National Honor Society.

Scholastic ability, the capacity for leading others, irreproachable character, and sincere service to the school are all marks of an outstanding individual. The fall induction enables membership for only seniors, whereas in the Spring both juniors and seniors maintaining a 2.9 or above average are eligible.

The traditional assembly programs feature both a student and guest speaker, after which the present members enter the audience to usher the candidates on stage to administer the oath.

All is not somber, however, for each new member must be initiated. Imitations of television personalities, or fictitious characters are typical subjects chosen for the initiation.

Elected for the year to carry out the plans and duties of the Honor Society are its capable officers, Richard Andrews, vice-president; Patricia Eckard, secretary; and John West, president.

Spokesman board

emphasizes improvement and expansion

A worthwhile yearbook should portray the life and spirit of a school and its student body through the effective use of both pictures and words. Each year it is the aim of the Spokesman Board to make this portrayal as realistic and attractive as possible. If the yearbook is to be successful, creativity and originality must be its goal.

With the aid of Mr. Ferretti and the leadership of the editor Jessie Cofini, the staff members have combined their talents and efforts to create a yearbook that is both creative and original. In order that the staff might improve the Spokesman, several members joined Mr. Ferretti in traveling to Keller's in Buffalo where the Spokesman is published.

Through the combined efforts of the entire staff, emphasis has been placed on improvement. Pages have been added to accommodate an ever-growing student body. A section on student life has been included to capture more fully the spirit of Strong Vincent and its students.

In spite of improvements and efforts of the staff, the Spokesman is successful only if each student can leaf through its pages and find but one thing that recalls pleasant memories of the year past.

Mr. Ferretti, Mary Heise, Linda De Palma, and Cyndie De Paulis take time out from their tasks to pose for this picture. Linda types much of the copy written by other members of the staff, including that done by Cyndie and Mary.

Assuming the business responsibility of the yearbook is Mrs. Alsheimer. Janet Pieretti, Marsha Cacchione, Kay Kroto, Janice Viera, and Garda Donlin aid her in handling the financial and secretarial business of the Spokesman.

Co-editors, Donna Baird and Emily Fatica, share the heavy responsibility of maintaining the tradition of excellence which the "Colonel" has acquired in past years. The girls have worked diligently in keeping this quality.

The "Colonel," an outstanding and respected organization of Strong Vincent High School, has held its tradition of excellence by placing high in many state wide contests. Yearly improvements which include an average of twenty pictures an issue, cartoons on the editorial page, an eight page issue, and new feature articles to inform their subscribers are credits to their fine reputation. The nine issues also include a new six page national publication, Roto, which deals with teenage activities throughout the country. The "Colonel" contains its usual accurate report of school affairs, effective coverage of current happenings, sports and social events with fashion news, seasonable editorials, book reviews and profiles of teachers. Sparked with the features of "Klub Korner," "Knox's Knothole," "Suesser on Sports," "Hits, Bits, and Comments," and "On the Agenda" the "Colonel" maintains its universal student support.

With the competent advice of their faculty advisor, Mr. Martin, the newspaper staff works enthusiastically to promote the sale of the "Colonel" and to provide the students with an informative, worthwhile, and interesting publication.

of excellence

The various section editors contribute hours of work and concentration to produce an informative and interesting newspaper. They are Martha Schultz, Pictorial Editor; Cheryl Erickson, Editorial Editor; Charlie Knox, Sports Editor; Chris Brodict, Feature Editor; Rae-Ellen Walter, Feature Editor; Sam Biletnikoff, Art Editor; and Patty Petrianni, News Editor.

The soliciting of publicity aids the newspaper staff in defraying the cost and expense for their subscribers. Co-editors, Donna Baird and Emily Fatica, work enthusiastically to promote the sale of the "Colonel" during an assembly program.

Cheerleaders encourage

Improving the school spirit of the student body at all the games and rallies is the job of the cheerleading squad. Both the boys, led by co-captains Bill Neumaier and Ron Alfieri, and the girls, led by co-captains Emily Fatica and Donna Baird worked hard to cheer our teams on to victory.

Miss Weinheimer and Mr. Bambauer enjoy their work as faculty advisors to the two squads. Under their capable direction many new features were introduced by the cheerleaders. The girls worked hard making new outfits—black bib tops with black culottes and white blouses—for the football season; while the boys purchased new red sweaters with black block letters. For the first time, the cheerleaders took part in the fall letter day assembly.

By continual hard work and renewal of spirit this organization is an outstanding contribution to Vincent.

"Victory, victory is our cry!" Co-captain Donna Baird leads the cheerleaders in everyone's favorite cheer.

Band

Color Guard

Always leading the band are our energetic color guards. They are Margie Van Wie, Sue Sumner, Gae Baker, and Maureen McClure.

No other organization can claim to have lifted our school's morale during the past year more than the Strong Vincent High School Band. The hard-working group of sixty members, under the capable leadership of Mr. Porsch, has displayed its many talents during assemblies, pep rallies, football games and holiday programs. Mr. Porsch and his group have not only provided musical entertainment for various junior high schools and charitable organizations within our city, but have also taken part in several music festivals throughout our state. Besides having been one of the largest Vincent bands ever in existence, it has also been one of the most active and versatile.

Beating out melodious tones, which are so important in a band performance, are Seniors Pete Postas, John DeCarolis, and Chuck Randall.

Rockettes and twirlers are assets

Performing at a football game during half-time are two Rockettes, Cyndie DePaulis and Linda DePalma, who did a solo to "Rock Around the Clock."

Founded but five short years ago, the Rockettes have earned the approval of the entire school. Pep rallies and football games were just two of the many engagements at which these girls performed. Highlighting the Christmas Program, the Rockettes, adorned in green, sequined outfits, danced Christmas spirit into every student. With the valuable leadership of co-captains Marcia Prassack and Pattie Eckard, many tedious hours were spent choreographing and perfecting their numerous dance routines. Through the aid of Mrs. Zuraw and Miss Behan, advisors to the Rockettes, these girls performed for many social and charitable organizations.

Perfection was the motto of the high-stepping twirlers. The Flags, Doubles, and Singles, lead by Captains, Jane Salzer, Margie Randolph and Patty Resta, respectively, added much zest not only to our pep rallies, but also to our football games. Under the capable supervision of Miss Weinheimer, these girls practiced diligently every seventh period. A variety of bright, eye-catching outfits placed the finishing touch on the clever routines executed on stage and on the football field.

Those choir members possessing special vocal talent are singled out for solo performances. Awaiting their cue before the Christmas Concert are Mel Mashner, Tom Scarpitti, Betsy Allen, and Diane Lalley.

The Concert Choir is by far one of Strong Vincent's most popular and active organizations. Under the competent direction of Mr. Porsch, the ninety-four voice choir proves to be both talented and successful.

This year the Choir traveled to Canada where they presented a number of concerts to the enjoyment of both the members and their audience. To raise money for the trip, they held a car wash and a spaghetti dinner. The members also sold various cosmetics and candies.

The ability of this group was shown in the traditional Christmas and Palm Sunday Concerts. Individual talents were displayed in the popular Song Fest, which was held in January.

The Choir is a most successful organization because of the great spirit of cooperation among its members. Each person has an individual voice, but in unison, a fine quality of tone is achieved. Due to hard work and talent, the Choir should be as proud as Strong Vincent is to have such a fine organization to represent the entire school.

Gloria Harden performs in one of the choir's traditional concerts. She possesses a fine voice with both quality and tone.

Choir upholds

To achieve a smooth running organization, leadership is an essential quality. Aiding Mr. Porsch in the business and student section of the Choir are Frank Strobel, president; Patty Meeker, vice president; Tom Scarpitti, treasurer; Margie Becker, secretary; and Dave Haller, assistant treasurer.

To raise money for their upcoming trip, the choir held a spaghetti dinner early in the fall. Taking time to enjoy the delicious spaghetti are Linda Gustavson, Judy Wood, and Martha Kolbe.

Dante and German Clubs

Shown above is Claudia Agnello purchasing a delectable candy apple from Pat Mastery. Profits from this sale were applied towards their annual opera trip.

Under the direction of Miss Galbo, the Dante Club has departed from its usual procedure of electing officers. Instead, the appointment of chairmen has proved to be more efficient.

The sale of candy apples to raise funds for the annual trip to a Cleveland opera and a Mothers' Tea held in May were among the many activities which this club undertook.

A link within the language clubs is essential. Mrs. Jewell's German Club held a joint sleigh ride with the Dante Club at the Thermal Ranch on February 5th. Also heading its busy schedule was a spring trip to an opera in Cleveland.

These clubs serve to promote a better understanding of their language and culture. This is accomplished through the use of slides, movies, talks, and bulletin boards.

Enjoying the sale of candy apples are Marsha Cacchione, secretary of the Dante Club; Charlene Buoniconiti and Jo Ann Chetoni, co-chairmen; JoAnne Drinkwater; and Patty Torrelli, Chairman for the Cleveland opera trip.

Enjoying the sleigh ride, along with members of the Dante and German Clubs, is Mrs. Jewell, faculty first year for a joint sleigh ride, it will undoubtedly continue for many years.

Language clubs enrich

Under the direction of Mr. Hogan, the officers of the Spanish Club, Cheryl Erickson, president; Jean Riester, vice-president; Ronald Alferi, treasurer; and Ann Jensen, secretary; planned many of the meetings and activities of this organization.

The language clubs at Strong Vincent provide entertainment and knowledge to their members. They broaden the student's interest in a language while providing projects to perform. Thus, the language clubs are welcomed with enthusiasm by every student at Vincent.

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Mr. Hogan and the assistance of his student teacher, Miss Blose, highlighted its year's activities with a trip to Cleveland on March 29. In order to raise funds for this trip, Strong Vincent pins were sold by the club members. The group also held many lectures about Spanish countries.

A trip to Pittsburgh to visit the planetarium and museum ranked first on the Latin Club's list of activities. Slides of ancient Greece and Roman ruins were shown, and guest speakers lectured at its meetings.

The officers of the Latin Club, president, David Thayer; vice-president, Angela Sapienza; treasurer, Marcia Mashner; and secretary, Charles Lehr; discuss plans for a future meeting.

students in art and culture

French club officers are Nancy Parsons, president; Debbie Babbitt, vice president; Nancy Swartzman, secretary; and Ronnie Fontecchio, treasurer.

Business Club

The new organization welcomed by the students of Vincent is the Business Club. The club has attempted to teach the various circumstances of the business world by having question and answer periods, lectures, and guest speakers. The meetings were held every second Monday of the month at the Y.W.C.A. This year's activities were highlighted by a Christmas party at the Y, guest speaker Dr. Kalkoff, and the Business Club dinner on April 5th at the Nuova Aurora Club. The Business Club is an excellent addition to Vincent's organizations and plays an important part in preparing students for the business world.

Mrs. Taormina's student teacher, Miss D'Aurora, gives a lecture to the Business Club on the career of a legal secretary while club officers Sherry Patrick and Kathy Ponsford listen attentively.

Bev Lucente, treasurer; Josie DiCara, secretary; Kathy Ponsford, president; and Sherry Patrick, vice president headed the Business Club which was advised by Mrs. Alsheimer, Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Taormina.

Y-Teens and Leadership is an important part of any organization. The officers of the Senior Y-teens are Jane Brown, treasurer; Michele Moore, vice-president; Barbara Natale, president; and Mary Heise, secretary.

Filling Easter baskets for the shut-in children in Erie area hospitals was another of the many charitable projects sponsored by the Y-teens. Participating are Jo Anne Chetoni, Diane Davis, Janet English, and Barbara Jeter.

One of the many service projects undertaken by the Y-teens was learning the treatment given to children that have Cystic Fibrosis. Michele Moore, Becky Coyle, Joyce Slagle, Judy Jobes, and Margaret Roehrl practice the treatment on Mary Rose Sullivan, a very willing patient.

Service Club give willing service to Vincent

Emphasis is placed on service by both the Senior Y-teens and the Girls' Service Club.

Through their membership in the club, the facilities of the YWCA are open to the Senior Y-teens. Among the many charitable projects sponsored by the Y-teens were Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets filled with food to make the holiday season more pleasant for less fortunate people in the Erie area. Learning to administer the treatment for children with Cystic Fibrosis was a major project of this group. The girls learned these treatments to lighten the schedules of parents who must administer these treatments four times a day. The Y-teens club is also a social organization; a winter Tri and a spring hayride was held during the school year.

The Service Club is composed of sophomores and juniors interested in their community. These girls participated in the Heart Fund Drive. During the Christmas season, the girls purchased gifts for the patients at Warren State Hospital to give to their friends and relatives. Filling and addressing envelopes were some of the tasks performed at the T.B. Center by the Service Club.

Vincent certainly should be proud of these girls who give of their time and effort to improve and aid their community, as well as themselves.

Uniting the Service Club into a smooth organization are officers Jane Benson, secretary; Sue Biletznikoff, president; Rose Hanson, treasurer; Stacy Narducci, service chairman; Chris Konar, committee chairman, Anne Cunningham, program chairman; Danielle Petrillo, vice-president.

Helping to collect for the Heart Fund was a project sponsored by the Service Club. Participating in this activity are Bev Clark, Judy Meyn, Cathy Fox, Sue Biletznikoff, Debbie Babbit, Lucy Quintilliano, Marsha Chesbro.

College Club guides college bound Colonels

"How is my college ranked?" "Which is best, a large university or a small college?" "Where should I apply?" "What are my college requirements?" The College Club attempts to answer these and the many other questions of the college bound student. Through a program of lectures, panel discussions, and slides students may learn more about the college or university of their choice.

In one of their monthly meetings, the members of the College Club voted to donate a sum of money from their treasury to the A.F.S. Club. This donation will pay for part of the expenses of receiving and sending a foreign exchange student in the following year.

In 1965 the College Club drew up and printed a college handbook, a pamphlet to which the students may refer on any matter concerning college. Under the guidance of Mrs. Tuttle, the College Club has been a great aid to college bound Colonels.

The College Club offers a variety of programs to guide seniors in choosing the right college. The officers of this organization are N. Parsons, treasurer; S. Strong, co-program chairman; K. Shank, secretary; M. Myers, co-program chairman; J. Grazier, president; and T. Marsteller, vice-president.

Future Nurses

The Future Nurses Club is designed to acquaint its members with various schools of nursing and the nursing profession. Informative literature and guest speakers provide valuable data for prospective applicants. This is a worthwhile club which is interesting and informative to its members.

The officers of the F.N.A. are Ann Stacy, secretary; Sandy Wasiesky, treasurer; Carol Heintz, president; Mary Anne Blum, program chairman; Marilyn Buzzanco, vice-president.

One of the very best ways to learn and understand the cultures and societies of other countries is to meet the people of these countries. This is the purpose of the American Field Service. The Strong Vincent chapter of the A. F. S., which meets once a month, tries to raise enough money to sponsor a foreign exchange student for the following year. Some of the ways the A. F. S. raises funds is by selling fruit cakes, greeting cards, and candy.

The purpose of the A. F. S. is two-fold. Not only is it a fund-raising organization, but an organization to welcome and make our exchange student feel at home at Vincent and in Erie.

Since this year's A. F. S. student was Bente Sorensen from Norway, many parties and get-togethers were held in honor of Bente and her country. At Christmas time a Norwegian Christmas party was held and the Norwegian National Day was observed later in the year. The high point of the club was an A. F. S. weekend, held in May, at which time exchange students from the Erie area visited Vincent and the homes of Vincentites.

Leadership and cooperation are necessary to have a successful organization. The officers of the A.F.S. are Janice Bohlender, treasurer; Scott Kuebler, secretary; David Stout, president; and Marilyn Maeder, vice president.

A.F.S. welcomes Bente Sorensen

The boys of A.F.S. gave Bente a valentine gift and party on Valentine's Day. The boys admiring Bente's card are Frank Strobel, Dennis Carlson, Dennis Strobel, Pete Rounds, Mike Grimm, Nels Horine, Geof Crankshaw, and Dave Stout.

A duel of tactics

The officers of the Chess Club are Dan Johnson, secretary; Barry Capell, vice-president; John Steff, president; and Barrie Robbins, treasurer. The concentration necessary to play a successful chess game is shown by several East players in the midst of an interscholastic tournament.

The game of chess is said to be a conflict between two minds; a duel of tactics and strategy. Strong Vincent's Chess Club participates in various matches. The members meet once a week to compete for places in interscholastic tournaments. The Vincent Chessmen boast several impressive showings: a 4-4 tie over heavily favored Prep and a 8-0 shut-out over East.

Under the leadership of Mr. Mucciarone, Mr. Hogan, and President John Steff, the members have undertaken a money raising project to purchase new chess equipment.

Members of the Music Appreciation club are J. Nicotra, president; H. Johnson, secretary; Tim Lorenzo, vice-president; G. Hughes, G. Akers, J. Berarducci, J. DeCarolus, P. Graff, and J. Mortini.

Music Appreciation

Strong Vincent's Music Appreciation Club is a relatively new organization. With an increased interest in the field of music came the need for such a club. Under the direction of Mr. DiGiorgio, members of the club meet once a month to discuss and listen to new albums and recordings. Although the members are partial to jazz, they enjoy and appreciate all types of music.

During the years of high school, personalities are molded, ideas are developed, and the future is planned.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization which aids its members in planning the future in the field of education. Debates, guest speakers, and discussions aid members in learning the many advantages and disadvantages of a teaching profession. Miss Wilson and Mr. Gustavson are the able advisors of Strong Vincent's Justin McCarthy Chapter of F.T.A.

F.T.A. prepares members for future

The F.T.A. has many interesting programs, including speakers, discussions, and debates. Barbara Natale, program chairman, is shown here introducing Mr. Weber, a faculty member. Mr. Weber discussed a teaching career versus the business field.

Assuming the leadership of any club is a great responsibility. The officers have a responsibility to the members as well as to each other. The officers of F.T.A. are Paula DeMarco, treasurer; Margaret Randall, vice-president; Sherry Jelinek, president; and Nancy Maloney, secretary.

A.V.A. and Stage Crew

The efficient A. V. A. fulfills the teacher's request for recorders, projectors, screens, slides and other types of equipment now essential for the modern program of education. Under the capable direction of Mr. Rouse the Audio Visual Aids department has met these frequent demands.

A.V.A.—Bob Gerbracht, Larry Uhlman, Mike Burch, Bob Johnston, Glenn Wurst, Pete Postas, Jeff Stephenson.

work together

The Stage Crew, in constant action behind the curtains, performs a valuable service to Vincent. Its members assist at variety shows, assemblies, concerts, class plays and various other performances held in the Strong Vincent auditorium by handling the lights, settings, curtains, and sound equipment. Mr. Toth, the advisor, and the boys deserve gratitude and appreciation for a job well done.

Junior Red Cross brings cheer to the needy

"We serve", the motto of the Junior Red Cross, is brought to life through a variety of activities and projects. This organization brings joy and help to the needy by packing chests to be sent overseas and presenting variety shows to local hospitals. The Junior Red Cross travels periodically to the County Hospital in Girard to visit with the patients and to give them a Christmas party. The Junior Red Cross is indeed an organization of which Vincent can be proud.

The Officers of the Junior Red Cross are quite capable of ensuring the success of this organization. Vice-president, Kathy Turify; President, Bob Collman, secretary Margaret Roehrl, and treasurer Bob McCarthy did a commendable job of leadership.

To run a school efficiently and effectively, it is necessary to have the cooperation of many people. Student monitors have proved to be of great help to the faculty and administration of Strong Vincent. These students volunteer their time and effort to work in the library, the main office, and counselor's office, to mention just a few of the places where they lighten the work load. Everything from typing, filing, and running errands, to checking out library books and keeping order in the cafeteria is done by monitors. Although these tasks seem rather menial, they are necessary in a well-organized and smooth running school. To all the people who contribute their time to the faculty and school, is owed a debt of gratitude.

Golf

Despite a slow start the Strong Vincent golf team ended the season with an over-all record of seven wins and four losses. Otto Meyn and Doug Salvatore were the mainstays of the team. Otto compiled a 6-1-2 record and placed fifth in the district. Doug had a record of 7-2-1. This performance enabled Otto and Doug to make the second team, all-city.

Cindermen finish strong with second in city meet

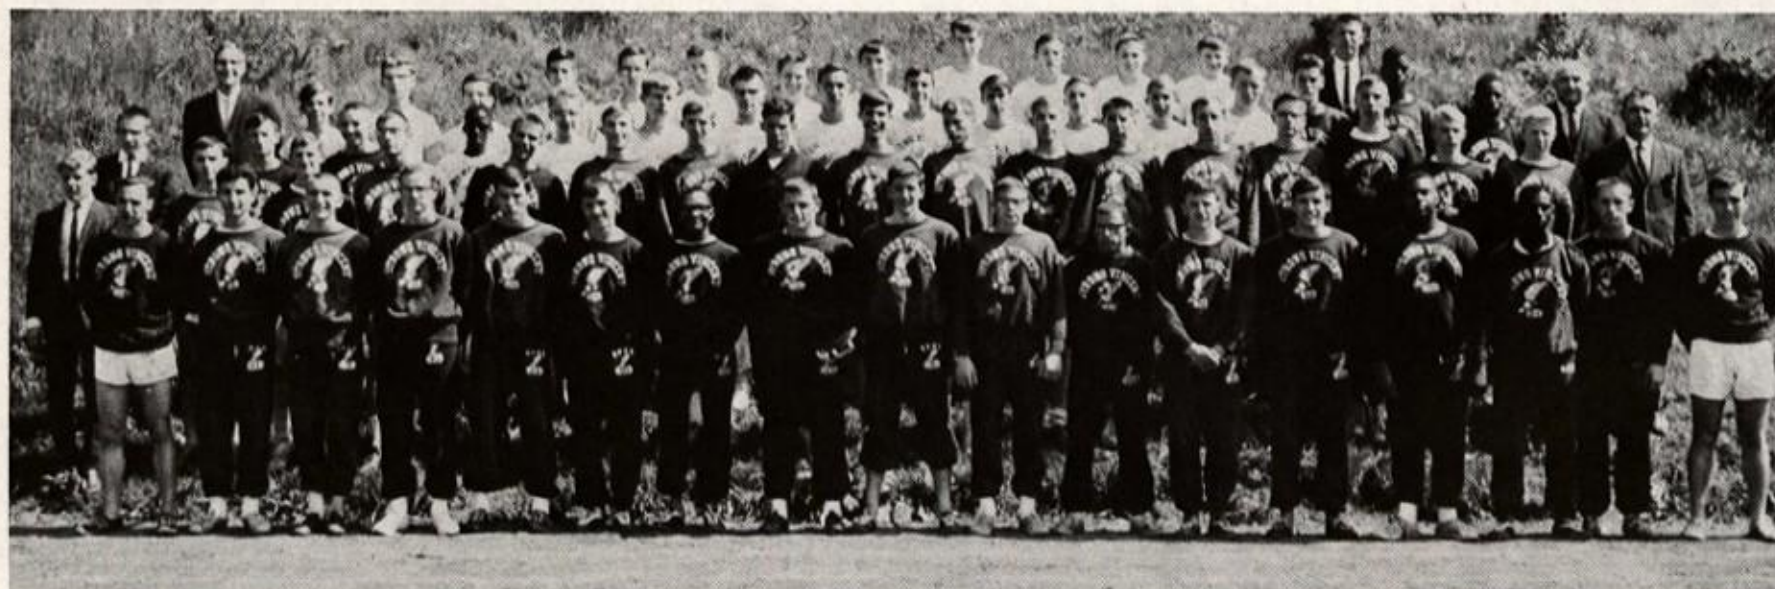

Russell Wyatt and Willie Heidelberg are shown as they kick toward the finish line in the 440-yard dash. Russ was a regular in the 440 as well as the mile relay. Willie is the potential best quarter miler for next season.

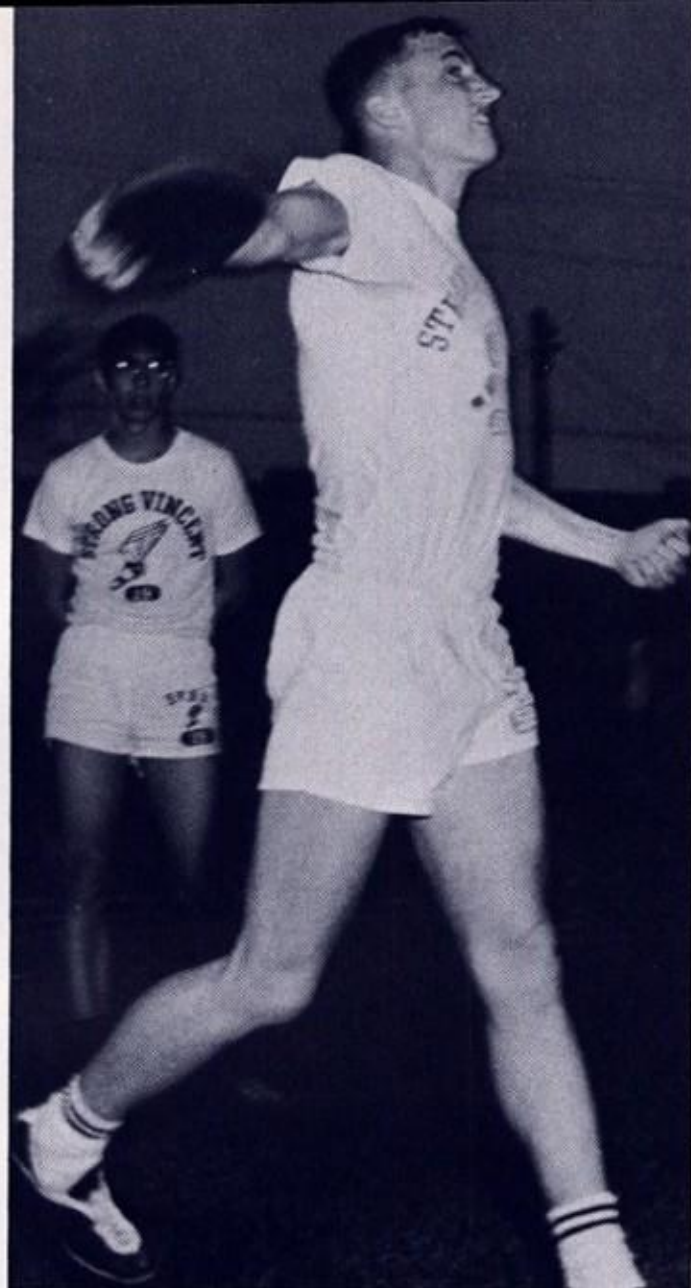

Although lacking the depth in the field events which could have meant the difference between second and first place, the thinclads pressed onward with the grit and determination inherent only to Strong Vincent. The team, finishing second in the city meet, held fourth place out of fourteen teams in district ten competition. Ron Fernandes took a fourth in the broad jump and a first in the 220-yard dash in the district meet. Finishing the 1964 track season, the Strong Vincent 880 relay team went down state to place sixth.

High point man for the Colonels in '64 was Dave Nelson. Dave also broke the school record in the broad jump with a leap of twenty one feet, ten inches. Other outstanding performances in '64 were given by Tom Haglund, Timmy Lorenzo, Joe Owens and Ron Fernandes.

Joe Owens finished first in the Prep meet. Joe was Vincent's cinder cyclone.

Netmen take second in city

Although the tennis team had to settle for second place instead of the city championship, 1964 can still be listed as a good year for tennis. Warren Vollbrecht, Don Brei, Jerry Munn, and John Stine were instrumental in the team's success. Warren, Vincent's "come back boy," was outstanding in matches against East, Meadville, and Prep. Don Brei did an excellent job playing against the cities' top players. Jerry Munn had an impressive record of 8 wins and 3 losses. Jerry downed the third seated player for one of the biggest surprises in the All Scholastic Tournament. John Stine had the best individual record on the team while winning ten and losing one. John took fourth place out of the forty-two players in the All City Tournament.

In doubles captain Alex Marini along with Vollbrecht were responsible for our complete victory over Fredonia by upsetting their first doubles team.

Pictured here are John Stine and Don Brei. Both boys played well all season with John posting an over-all record of 10 wins and 1 loss. Both boys placed in the quarter-finals of the city tournament.

Harriers take city

Veteran Colonel harrier, John West, sets the pace for lettermen Lou Qualtiere and Jeff Blake in the Prep meet. John could always be relied upon to turn in a good performance.

The Strong Vincent Harriers, under the demanding eye of Coach Stan Wilkinson, completed another successful season in '64. Undefeated in City Series competition with a record of 11-0, the team went on to win the District Ten Meet, taking seven of the first ten in the encounter. This was the eleventh district title in twelve years under Coach Wilkinson. The team ended the season by placing first in the Gannon Invitational. In the Gannon meet, our team downed seventeen first rate schools.

Outstanding senior runners, known as the "Big Seven," were Tom Haglund, Jeff Blake, Louis Qualtiere, Terry Miller, Rich Martin, John West, and Dave Swanson.

The trio of Rich Martin, Louis Qualtiere, and Terry Miller consistently took the first three positions on the Strong Vincent team. Rich generally placed first with Terry and Louis taking second and third respectively.

Team takes sixth in state meet

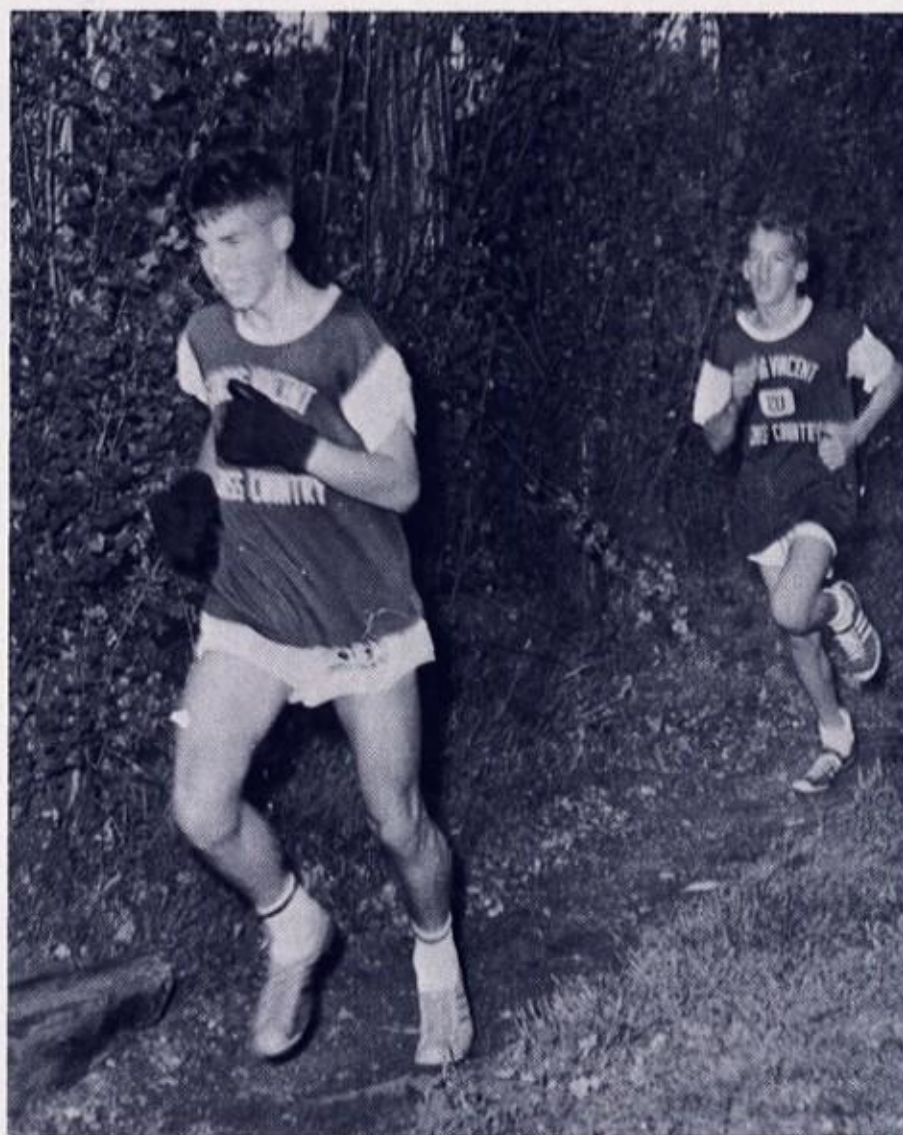

These seven seniors repeatedly placed in the top ten in the cross-country meets and were largely responsible for our undefeated season. They were also Vincent's mainstay in the district and state meets. Pictured with Coach Wilkinson are T. Miller, R. Martin, J. West, D. Swanson, T. Haglund, J. Blake, and L. Qualtiere.

The 1964 Football season brought to the Colonels a third place both in the city and the section, quite an improvement over last year's fifth place rating. Three-year lettermen Pete Rounds, Bob Gerbracht, Sam Biletnikoff, Russ Ritz and Rich Andrews led the team to their advanced status. Andrews and Ritz were elected to the second team of the All-City squad with Jim Skindell gaining honorable mention. Gary Breese, outstanding on defense, and Frank Raimondi, a fine runner, were also great factors in the team's standing.

The year, 1964, featured many outstanding individual achievements. Russ Ritz led city and section with a total of 54 points. Breaking the way for Ritz were Nick Sansone and Tim Stear, two first-rate blockers. Jim Skindell led city and section in individual tackles with 35. Gary Wolf had the highest punting average in the city with 34.6 yards. Ritz, Raimondi, and John Coffey were all Times-News players of the week.

The four games won were the greatest total since 1956. The Gridders recorded two straight shutouts, beating Academy 19-0 and Harborcreek 21-0. In the Academy game the opponents were held to a minus 21 yards rushing, one of the lowest totals in city football history.

One of the biggest controversies of the '64 football season occurred over the Tech game. Vincent defeated by 19-12, was given a forfeit win after it was disclosed that Tech used an ineligible player.

In the "war room" Coaches Detzel and Barthelson counsel Strong Vincent players at halftime. Rich Andrews nurses a turned ankle. Andrews, a three year letterman, was voted to the all city squad.

Coach Detzel discusses defensive strategy with middle linebacker Jim Skindell. Skindell, leading city and section in individual tackles with 35, was generally considered the best linebacker in the city.

Frank Raimondi, one of our best halfbacks, sweeps right against a tough Prep tackler. Teammates and opponents alike admired Frank's running prowess.

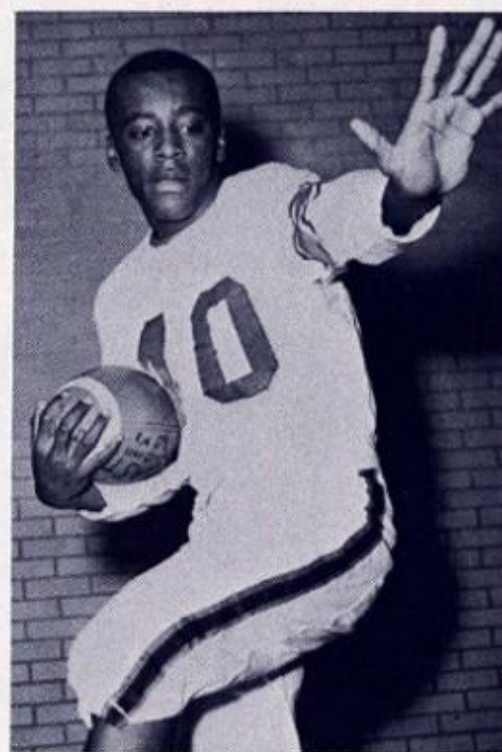

Gary Wolfe is sweeping around left end in the Vincent-Harborcreek game. Gary led the city in punting with an average of 34.6 yards.

Cagers cop district crown

One of the main reasons that the Colonel 'five' went as far as they did was Richard Schauble. This seasoned veteran is shown here attempting to get off a shot against Corry. Rich scored 39 points for the highest single point game total of Strong Vincent. Along with his 22.6 scoring average, Dick pulled down 8 rebounds per game.

Even though championships were ruled out by everyone this year, the Cinderella Colonels under the experienced coaching of Ralph 'Baron' Calabrese, finished the season with a magnificent record of 17 wins and only 7 losses.

Included in this successful record were both the Section I and District X championships. The team went as far as the Western Regional Semi-Finals before being defeated by a rugged Pittsburgh Schenley team. To obtain such a successful post-season record the boys defeated Hickory and a powerful Meadville five.

Led by senior co-captains All-City Rich Schauble and playmaker John Suesser, this basketball team was the surprise package in the city. Never defeated twice by the same team the Colonels swept their last 10 games before meeting Schenley of Pittsburgh at Westminster College.

Even though not gifted with the talent and height that other teams had in the previous years, The 'Baron' exemplified that intestinal fortitude and determination carried these boys as far as they went. These attributes were demonstrated by Jrs. Charley Knox (who pulled down 10 rebounds per game); Jim Carter (205 points) and senior demon Tim Carney, who played outstanding ball both on offense and defense. Ready for relief work were Sr. Willie Heidelberg (163 points) and Jrs. Ed Huffman and Rich Flowers.

The depth of the Colonel bench will be a main factor next year when the Colonels' will try for their third straight Section I crown.

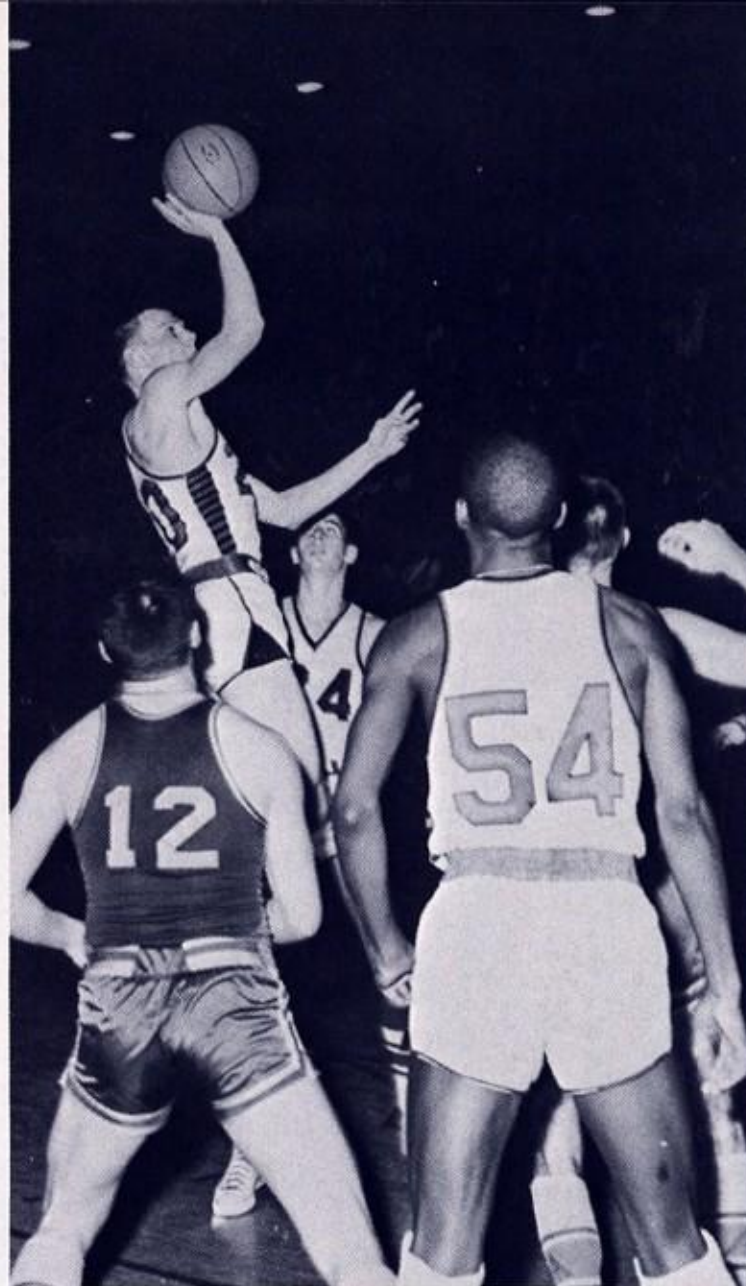

BASKETBALL—ROW ONE: W. Heidelberg, J. Suesser, T. Carney, C. Knox, R. Schauble, J. Barber, J. Carter. ROW TWO: Coach Calabrese, J. Ferrare, J. Heidelberg, J. Tinko, R.

Flowers, J. Flannigan, L. Lawson; assistant manager. ROW THREE: C. Horton, R. Arrowsmith, E. Huffman, W. Lash, F. Johnson, T. Atkinson, C. Serafini.

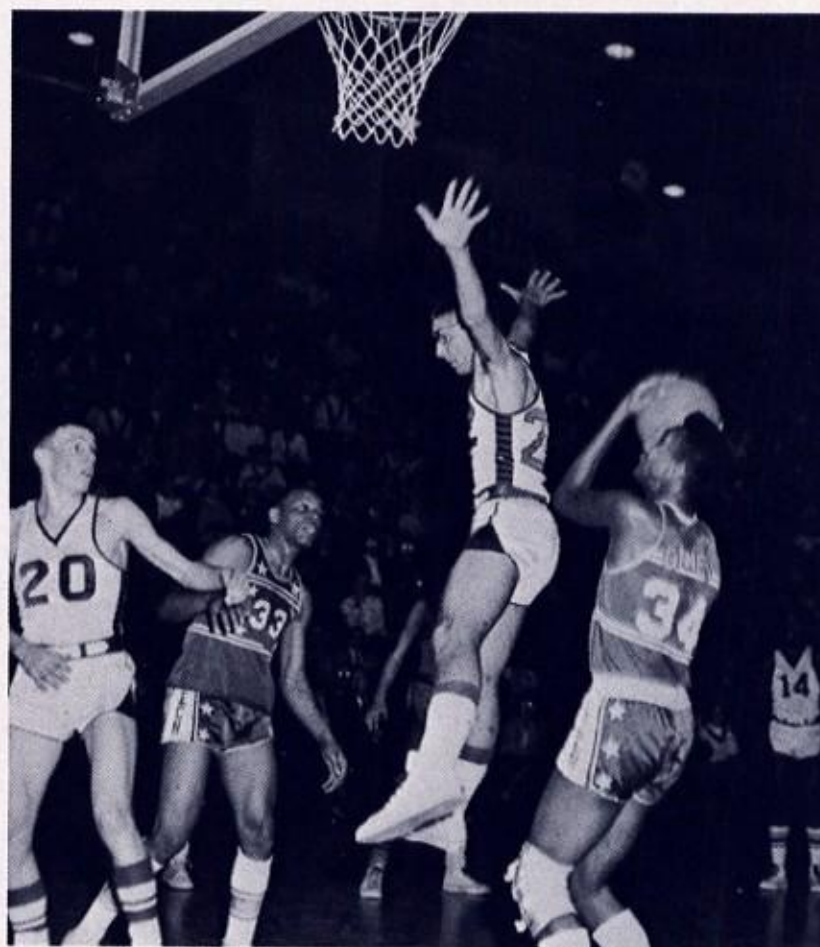

Another two of his 17 points scored against Prep is shown here as Sr. Co-Captain John Suesser lays it in. Although being the playmaker of the team, John scored 187 points, and was selected to the All-City Second Team.

Besides being a very dependable shooter and rebounder, Sr. Tim Carney was also chosen for the Second Team All-City. Attempting to block the shot of Larry Gaines of Tech is John Suesser, while Tim Carney moves into position for the rebound.

Jr. starter, Charley Knox is about to spring up and raise that score. 6'3" Knox will be a very valuable asset to the future of the Colonels with his superb rebounding and foul shooting.

Dribbling dynamo, J. C. Carter is shown here, putting on a display of his ability to penetrate the opponent's full court press. Placing on the All City second team, Jim contributed over 200 points to the Colonel cause.

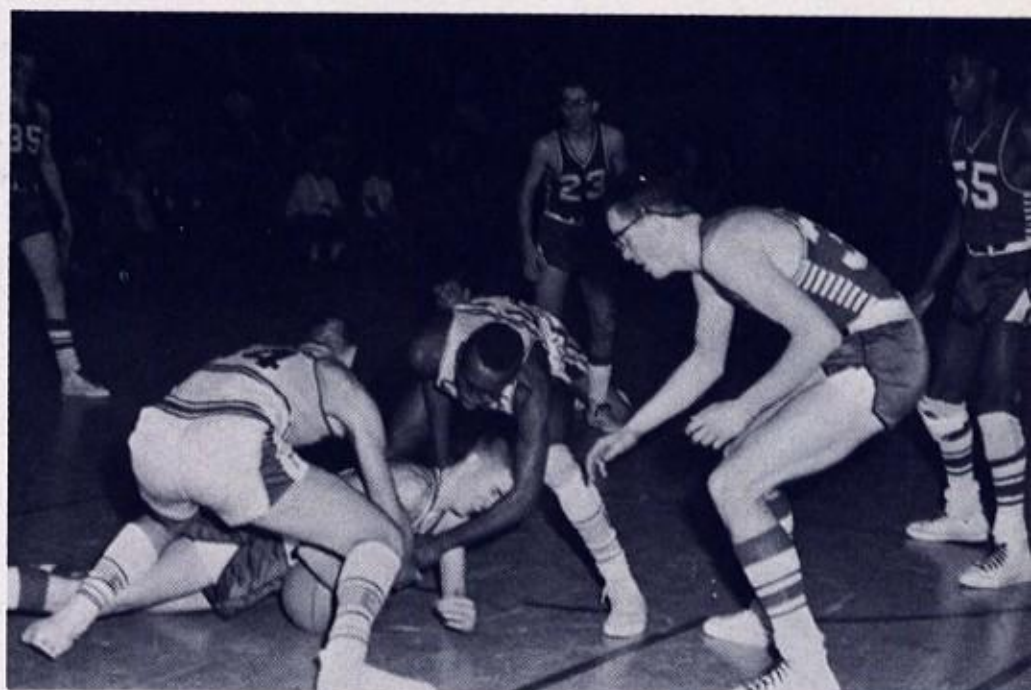

Senior reliefer, Willie Heidelberg, is caught by the camera as he attempts to lay the ball up and in against Corry High. Willie came off the bench many a time and helped the Colonels in the extra punch they needed.

Red and Black bounce back

All-City Dick Schauble, is bent on driving for two points against his Rambler foe, Chuck Shreve. Rich pumped the nets for 498 points to rank him fifth in Erie's all-time scoring.

The determination shown all year by the fighting 'Go-Go' boys is clearly displayed here by Ed Huffman as he scrambles for a loose ball in the East Game.

The J.V. team, coached by Mr. Wilkinson wound up the season with a fourth place in the city series with a three and nine record. Co-captains Matt Darby and Tom DiPaolo with Chad Klahr, Ken Jewell, and Randy Morin rounding out the big five, gained valuable experience and training for the future varsity team.

A thirty-four to twelve victory over Academy began the city series play for the Vincent grapplers. Losing twice to Prep and once to East, the matmen compiled a praiseworthy season record of eleven wins and three losses. The Colonels took a third place in city and section competition, a somewhat disappointing drop from last year's first place standing. The high points of the 1965 wrestling season were the two Prep matches. Both were decided by a very narrow margin, the scores being 19-22 and 20-21. It can be safely stated that if the squad had not been plagued by so many injuries, these matches would have been won also.

Bringing honor to Strong Vincent were Jerry Magoon, Gary Hughson and Steve Koscelnik, All-City champions. Magoon, wrestling at 120, was the best in the city for the third consecutive year. Gary Hughson secured both city and section championships. Koscelnik, competing in the 145 pound division, was also a section finalist.

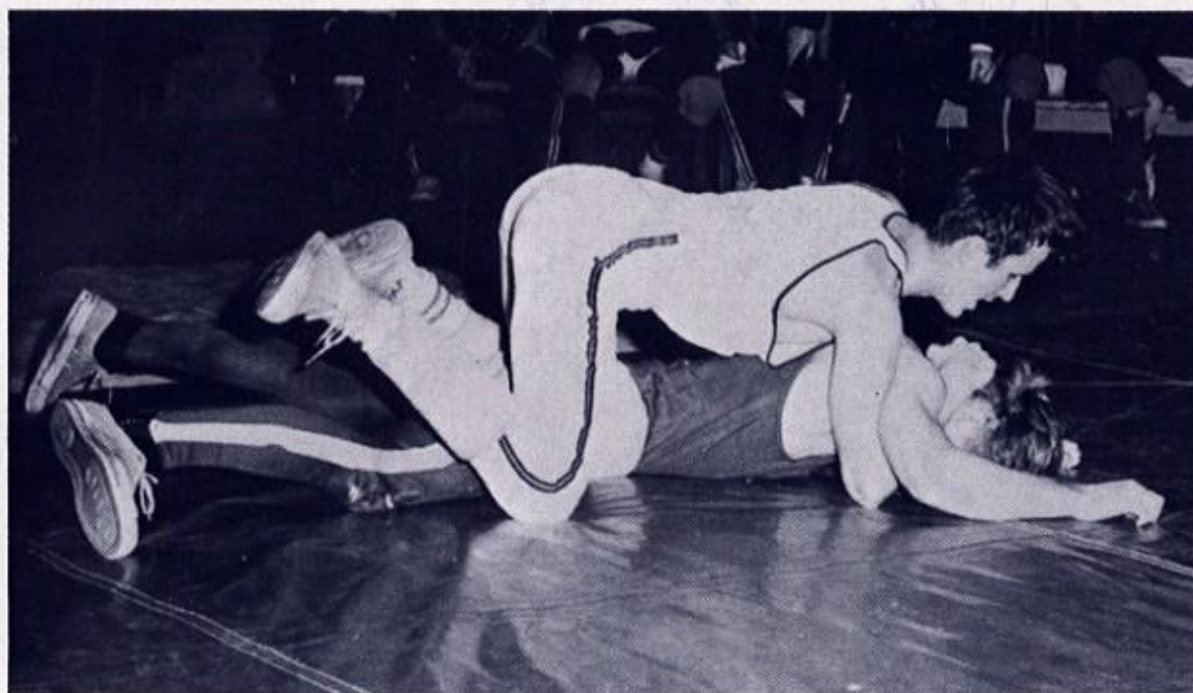

Wrestling at both 112 and 127 pounds, Dennis Glover proved himself a fine wrestler by winning seven straight matches, six of these being pins. Dennis was the only undefeated member of the team, but unfortunately he was injured early in the season and could not continue to wrestle.

Colonel matmen prove formidable opponents

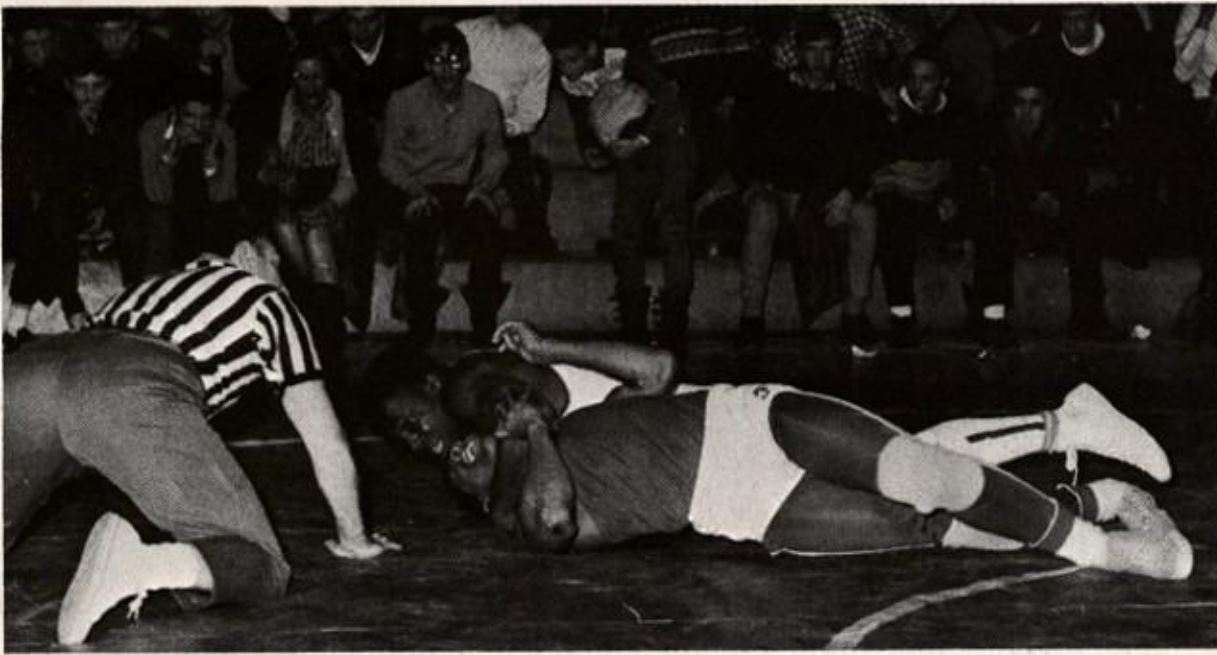

Steve Koscelnik applies an effective half-nelson during the city finals. Steve became city champion in the 145 pound weight division and also went on to compete in the section finals.

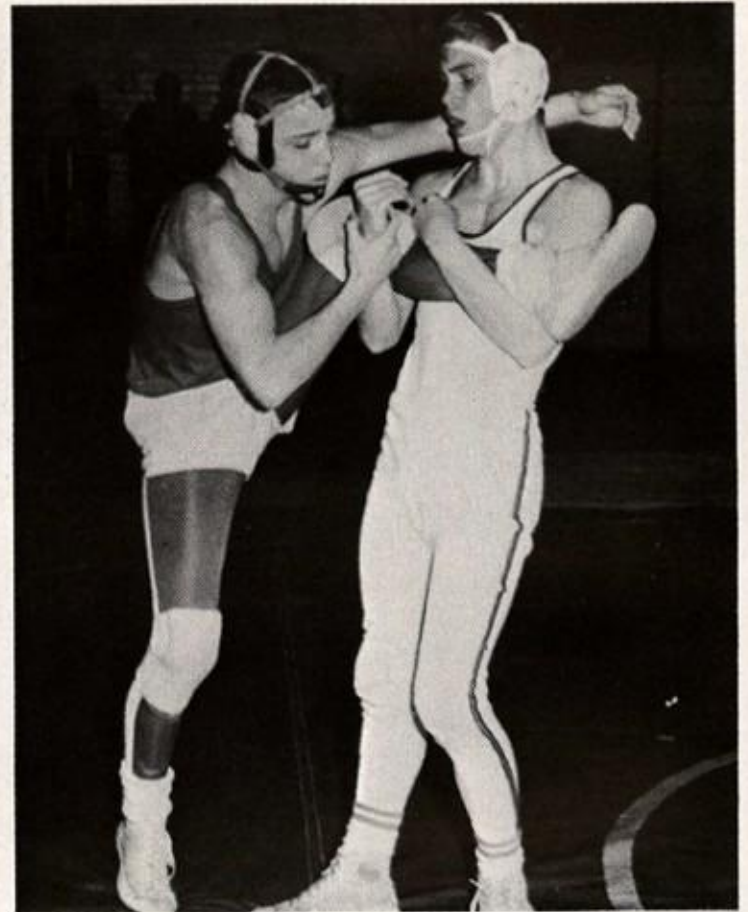

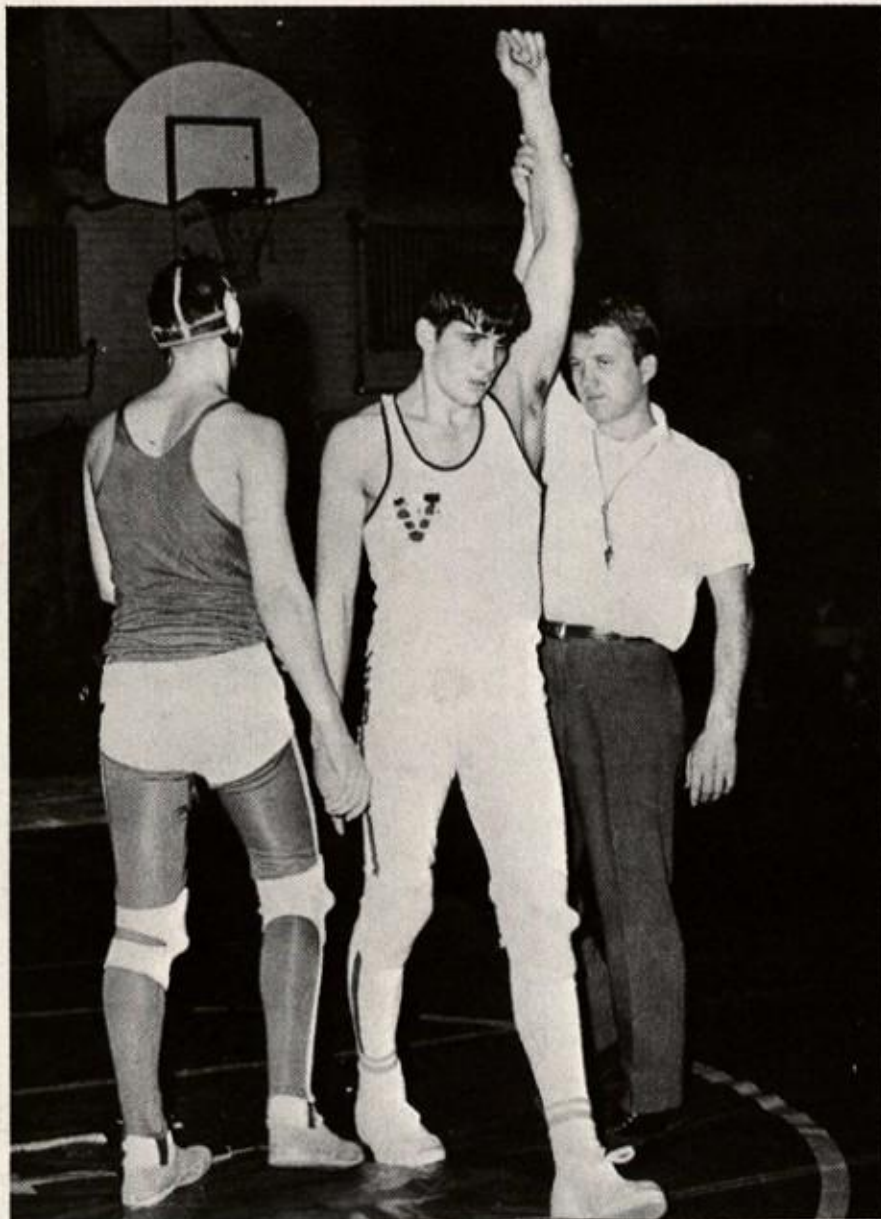

City and Section champ Gary Hughson executes a pinning hold. Hughson, a junior, was one of the most consistent winners throughout the season. He was the only member of the Vincent squad to compete in the district ten finals.

Bob Mathews, at 165, goes for the pin. Although showing great strength in all his matches, his most remembered display will be the Lawrence Park Match, in which he was disqualified for lifting his 215 pound opponent over his head and slamming him to the mat.

Jerry Magoon, in a match with Wasson of East, is about to gain valuable points through a takedown. Wasson defeated Magoon in their first encounter, but Jerry came back in the city meet to avenge his loss, giving Wasson his first defeat of the year.

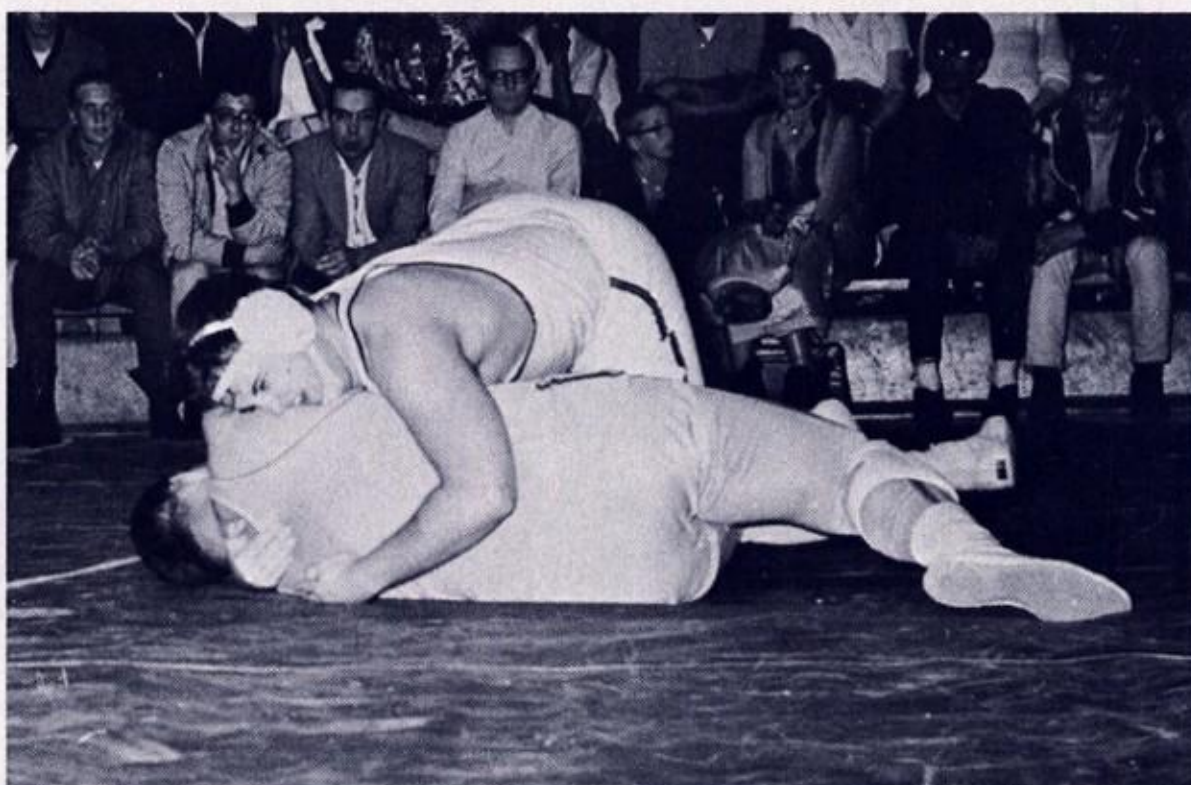

Jeff Connelly, a senior on the squad, won a number of important matches in his division. Connelly became a city finalist, wrestling in the 154 pound class.

Larry Carr gains valuable riding time in the first East match. Carr with a record of seven wins and three losses, wrestled in the city finals at 133 pounds.

City champion at 112, Donny DeLuca returns to wrestle next year with four years of valuable experience. In this picture DeLuca is gaining a near fall of a Prep opponent.

Richard Andrews, a veteran on the team, wrestled in the unlimited division for four years. Here Rich applies a half nelson to pin his 245 pound opponent from Academy.

Colonel splashers

Senior forward Dave Nelson keeps the ball high and dry, safely out of the reach of a straining Prepster. Dave was high point man on the team with 15 goals.

Fred Vickey, Vincent's new water polo and swimming coach, encourages the team during half time. He coached the team to a successful season with a total of 5 wins and 3 losses.

Capacity crowds and exciting games were the rule in '64. Again and again Colonel fans were thrilled by displays of skill, endurance, and stick-to-it-tiveness shown by the hard-nosed water poloists. Under the newly acquired guidance of Coach Vickey, the team took a third place in City Series competition.

Three of Vincent's top players were named to the All-Scholastic team. Forward Dave Nelson was selected for the first team, while Les Moore and forward Bob Rollinger were placed on the second team. Bill Lillis and Steve DiRaimo gained honorable mention. Dave Nelson, also outstanding in track and swimming, was high point man on the squad with a total of 15 points.

Well guarded Bob Rollinger, assisted by Bill Lillis and Gordy Jones, attempts a goal against East.

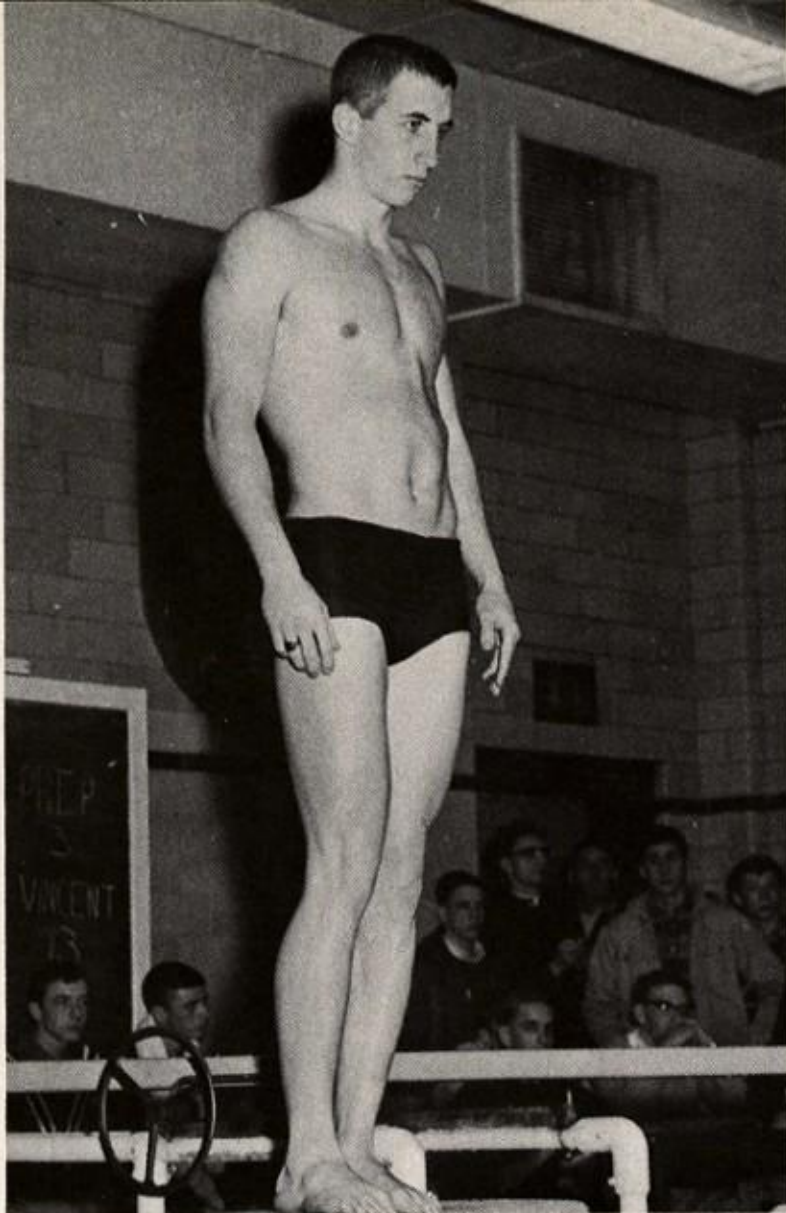

Les Moore shows his superb skill by retrieving a wayward ball. Gordy Jones, another able guard, gives his assistance. Les was one of two Vincent splashers to receive a birth on the second team of the All-Scholastic Squad.

One of the Colonel's three starting forwards, Bill Lillis, fires a well placed shot for a goal in the Prep game. Two minutes and an interception later, another goal was "Willie's." Bill gained a well deserved honorable mention on the All-Scholastic team.

"Joe Swimmer," senior Dave Nelson prepares for competition in the 60 yard freestyle. Dave, co-captain of the team won recognition for Vincent seconds later when he broke the school, city, and national collegiate records with a new time of: 26.8, shattering the old clocking of: 27.1.

Continuing the tradition of swimming excellence started by Coach Art Weibel in 1933 and carried on by Coaches Whitey Sola and Frank Vicchy, first year coach Fred Vickey has produced another winning team. The Colonel mermen annexed another city, district, and regional championship in 1965. They also made an excellent showing at the State Meet, tying for second place, only four points away from first.

"Records are made to be broken." This phrase is an apt description of the Strong Vincent swimming team's continuing success. In the past year a total of fifteen new records have been set by the Colonel swimmers, breaking the old standards by as much as three seconds in some events.

The longest established swimming record is only a season old, excluding diving, which should fall next year. Colonel swimming teams have always been great, but the number of records broken this year speaks for itself.

Among the many records to fall this season was that for the 100 yard backstroke. Les Moore broke his own city mark with a time of 56.2. He also broke district and regional marks on his way to winning the state championship. Les was the only gold medal winner for the Colonels in the State Meet. Our co-captain also established a new school record in the 160 yard individual medley with a time of 1:43.8.

Sophomore All American Skip Arbuckle set a new school record in the 400 yard freestyle, with a time of 4:20.0. New records were also set by the 200 yard freestyle relay teams in city and Grove City Invitational competition.

SWIMMING—ROW ONE: R. Myers, S. Bonney, B. Matlak, J. Blum, J. Henry, J. Roseberry, E. Joslin, C. Lassman. ROW TWO: G. Jones, B. Lillis, M. Cray, L. Moore, D. Nelson, S.

Coach Vickey continues tradition

District, Regional and State Champ, Les Moore, shows his All American form on the way to still another victory. Les has been undefeated in the 100 yard backstroke for the last three seasons in dual meets.

City and District Champion Skip Arbuckle displays the smooth, even stroke that enabled him to glide to a city record with a time of 4:20.6 in the 400 yard freestyle. He highlighted his season with a city record clocking of 1:52.0 in the 200 yard freestyle against East High's Jim Popoff.

The freestyle relay of Steve DiRaimo, Skip Arbuckle, Bob Rollinger, and Dave Nelson set a new city record in the 160 yard freestyle relay with a time of 1:10.9. This freestyle crew also foamed up the waters of the district and regional pools, taking first place in each, setting a new regional mark of 1:32.0 in the 200 yard free relay.

Past records

Gordy Jones, Colonel diving ace, displays the form that enabled him to capture the district diving title.

Distance star Bill Lillis laps two East High opponents on the way to another victory in the 400 yard freestyle.

Bill holds the district ten record in the 400 with the time of 4:27.1, but his seasons best time of 4:23.4 was well below this.

Keen competition

Every Wednesday afternoon from October to April, Frontier Lanes is the sight of the Red and Black bowling league competition. The girls and their advisor, Miss Weinheimer, enjoy the exercise and sportsmanship which every bowler relishes. The league consists of sixteen teams of five girls each, and each girl is a sanctioned member of the American Junior Bowling Congress. In addition to the regular Wednesday night matches, the girls participate in the Scotch Doubles, Head-Pin, and Hi-Lo Tournaments.

They also team up with the boys' league in the Mixed Doubles Tournament. Regular sessions of the boys' bowling league are held on Friday at Frontier Lanes. Mr. Hilinski often takes part in the matches, as well as serving as advisor. The boys' league grows in popularity each year as active Vincentites take up the sport.

Both girls and boys enjoy the team competition and individual honors that make this sport interesting to all participants. Bowling is high on the list of favorite Colonel pastimes.

Leading the boys' bowling league were Dave Adams, highest average-175; Tom Smith, highest single game-234; and Jim Becker, highest series-647.

Under the leadership and guidance of "Weinie" the girls receive a chance to prove not only their individual athletic potential, but their capability to work together as a team, in a sportsmanlike manner during the various girls' sports activities held after school.

These activities teach fundamentals to beginners, and offer a chance to practice and improve techniques for the more advanced students, in such fields as basketball, volley ball, swimming, and lifesaving. The girls who participate combine a program of physical fitness with fun and recreation.

Although every one of us may walk separate paths of life, each will forever be a "Colonel."

Bob,
so a cute &
nice kid who sits by me in typing class.
Good luck in the future.
Hope to see you next year. Have a nice summer
your friend
Josie
Good luck.

Bob,
To a real good kid. Good luck &
have fun at Vincent.
Kathy Barbara

All Has,

To one guy who's the best buddy anyone could have. Remember the great times we had in all our Math classes. Good Luck in the future and everything you do. (VEH STARK)

Your Pal,
"Bill Last."

Bob (star)
TO a real good guy
EVEN IF YOU'RE NOT TOO
SWIFT IN GEOMETRY. GOOD LUCK.
"TOM ZCJAVAC"

Dear Bob,
Lots of luck in your future years. (Especially with geometry)
To a real sweet kid I'll never forget. I'll never forget all the fun we had together, and all our "little" disagreements. Stay as sweet & nice as you are & you'll always have lots of friends.
See ya around,
Ronnie

Bob
To that tough basketball player in my gym class good luck long

Good Luck
Bob, If you do everything as good as you play basketball
you'll go places here
ya next year.
Jim Lind

SMIT

To a good kid who likes to play basketball but not against me because you know what will happen.

Your friend,
(Harold ATKINSON)

allstar
to the biggest cleanest kid in the whole school (HA, HA). Take it easy with the women. Don't beat them too mean. Keep up your honor card next year and hope you get a scholarship.

Ray

Start,
Take it easy
this summer, because if you work to hard
it ruins your system Down. Good luck in whatever you do.
"Harry"
"Smith"

Bob,
A good friend
and basketball player (pretty hairy too). Best of luck always.
Dan Curtis
"66"

To allstar
To the best basketball player. all the luck
in the future.
Buddie

SMITTY,
To a good Buddie of mine who has the worst softball team in the gym. If your players were all like you they'd be the best.
Dave Schultz

Well, Bob - no use writing a long letter since I'll be seeing your ugly face all next year. Have fun this summer but don't let the brods take up all your time.

Tim Shannon

SMYTH:

I KNOW HOW YOU WILL MISS ME NEXT YEAR BUT TAKE
IT IN STRIDE REMEMBER
WE ALL GOT TO GO SOMETIME.

I KNOW THAT YOU WILL BE ABLE FILL MY SHOES NEXT YEAR
BECAUSE YOUR FEET ARE BIG ENOUGH. (GO AHEAD ED-HEAD-FRED
TED-NED-RED-CHED-YED-ZED-FED
EED-AED-BED-MED-OED-PED-QED.)
DON'T GET MAD, REMEMBER ONLY ASSHOLES GET SORE.

Ali,

TO A CLEAN M.D.
MAY ALL YOUR PROBLEMS BE DIG ONES.
BECAUSE THAT'S WHAT YOU GIVE ME.
